

the right flank reached within slightly over a mile from the rebels' inner line. Then began, under heavy artillery fire, a bitter struggle for possession of a bridge, which the federals won, and drove back the rebels upon Jimenez.

Federals also succeeded in capturing and burning bridges on the road to Parral, thus snatching railway lines normally offering retreat for the rebels to the north and west.

Shortly before 11 o'clock the federals attacked several hacienda buildings held by the rebels on the outskirts of Jimenez, taking one after another with daring charges by infantry and cavalry, thus forcing more rebel advance posts back toward Jimenez, and as the battle grew more intense, and general all along the front, the artillery kept up a heavy fire on parts of Jimenez, which the rebels still held.

Federals Suspend Attack.

Word of suspension of the federal attack reached Chapultepec castle late tonight. Gen. Calles wired:

"The battle which started this morning around Jimenez between the federal expeditionary force under command of Gen. Almazan and the main body of rebel troops of the forces of Gen. Escobar, Carabeo, Urbalejo, and others entered upon a period of calm this afternoon."

"However, the federal artillery and air force have not ceased action, but are bombarding the positions which the enemy still hold in the railroad station and the part of the town of Jimenez which remains in their power."

Gen. Calles telegraphed that among the rebels surrendering during the battle was Gen. Daniel Sanchez with 100 cavalrymen. Gen. Sanchez said other rebel officers are anxious to desert.

Meanwhile Gen. Lazaro Cardenas' forces were advancing upon La Cruz, Sinaloa, covering the extension of the country on both sides of the upland railway tracks, and using army drays and other motor cars to carry troops.

Gen. Emiliano Rodriguez with four regiments of federal troops at ten o'clock this morning drove back the rebels, who were strongly entrenched in the hills about Limon, state of Sinaloa.

1,000 Rebels in Battle.

At 12:30 p. m. Gen. Rodriguez' troops were reinforced and the fight continued until 5 p. m., when the enemy retreated in the direction of La Cruz, leaving over fifty prisoners and 100 dead. Purpose of the rebels continued. The federal losses were 30 killed. Prisoners said the rebels were commanded by Gen. Ramon Iturbide and Gen. Roberto Cruz. Airmen reported the main rebel force was retreating from La Cruz to Guila, Sinaloa. The rebel force numbered about 1,000. Prisoners said the rebels left La Cruz Saturday for Quelite, remaining there yesterday. It is believed they intended to stretch their line of defense to the south.

The federals, following the retreating rebels, captured more prisoners at Coyatitan after another encounter. The rebels, left many horses, arms and ammunition and fled to the hills. There were additional losses to the rebels in dead and wounded.

Starts Drive on "Cristos."

Gen. Saturnino Cedillo with 3,000 federals today began a campaign to break up the newly united army which Gen. Augustin Gorostiza, the commander of the "Cristos" has galvanized into life during the last three weeks.

Gen. Cedillo plans an offensive all along the line from Yucurec through Ocotlan to the western extreme of the state of Jalisco in order to prevent the rebels escaping as on former occasions into neighboring states. Other offensive against the "Cristos" in the states of Guanajuato, Michoacan and Colima are also underway.

Air Bombs Rain on Naco.

NACO, Sonora, Mexico, April 1.—(AP)—A battle in this vicinity between rebel and federal troops within the next twenty-four hours appeared inevitable today as Gen. Pancho Topete commenced to deploy his forces in skirmish formation to the southeast of the federal entrenchments.

Meanwhile the rebel general made another attempt to lower the morale of the defenders with two more air raids. One federal soldier and two civilians were wounded.

The first bombing this morning followed closely the funeral in a little

The Mexican revolution was marked yesterday by a major engagement on the northern front and three minor clashes, two of which may bring on battles.

The main armies of the federals and rebels were engaged in a fight for possession of Jimenez. Gen. Calles claimed his troops had driven the right flank of Escobar's army into the city.

The Pacific coast federal army drove back rebel outposts near La Cruz, Sinaloa, and was rapidly advancing on the city, which the insurgents are reported to have begun to evacuate.

Rebel planes bombed the federal garrison at Naco, Sonora. Insurgent troops were sighted closing in on the little border town.

Mexican federals gave up Mesquite, Sonora, opposite Sasabe, Ariz., where a larger rebel force appeared.

Seven Strikes in City.

Seven of today's bombs fell within the fortifications of the town. One missile knocked down a Mexican civilian and another civilian was struck in the head by a flying steel fragment. Another bomb fell in the back yard of a house in which a Mexican woman was bathing a child. Fragments of the shell riddled a washtub hanging on the wall over their heads, but injured neither. Soldiers fled to shelter.

Rebels Again Take Mesquite.

Nogales, Ariz., April 1.—(AP)—Mexican rebel troops again are in possession of Mesquite, a tiny Sonora, Mexican town on the border south of Sasabe, Ariz. Last week it was taken, without firing a shot, by a small detachment of federals from Baja, California. Yesterday the few soldiers holding the town evacuated as a company of sixty rebels approached.

Body of Man Is Found in Weight Pit of Link Bridge

The body of a man about 40 years old was found in the bottom of the counterweight pit at the south end of the Michigan boulevard link bridge yesterday. He is believed to have been on the lower level of the bridge when it was being raised and hurled into the pit. There were several bruises about the head and one leg was broken.

MEXICO REVOLT CHIEFS RICH WITH LANDS AND GOLD

Escobar, Manzo and Cruz Are Millionaires.

BY JOHN CORNYN.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
(Copyright: 1929: By The Chicago Tribune.)
MEXICO CITY, Mexico, April 1.—The Mexican military men now in revolt are among those who have laid by industriously for the eventual rainy day. Gen. J. Gonzalo Escobar, who a comparatively few years ago was a poor man with somewhat expensive tastes which were continually leading him beyond his depths, succeeded in laying by a nest egg of $108,000 American money in the branch of the Bank of Montreal here. He is reported to have had a somewhat larger sum in banks in Torreon and El Paso.

Before beginning the revolution March 5, Gen. Escobar drew all his money out of the bank here and sent it across the Rio Grande, where it might be safe from the eventualities of war. He is said to have deposited it in the name of his wife. Gen. Escobar was a good business man and made many fortunate investments which doubled his capital several times over.

Manzo Once Dock Porter.

Gen. Francisco R. Manzo is another of the rebel generals with a penchant for gathering wealth. Gen. Manzo, who is said to have risen from a porter on the wharves of Guaymas, in the state of Sonora, became a noted commander of troops with a record of victories to his credit. He finally reached the highest rank in the Mexican army, that of general of division.

This same business ability Gen. Manzo made use of for his own enrichment. In Ortiz and the neighboring port of Guaymas, Manzo was accounted among the millionaires of the state of Sonora. In the vicinity where he was a porter before the revolution against Porfirio Diaz started, in the fall of 1910, Gen. Manzo now possesses several haciendas, accounted among the best in the state. These he made productive by sinking artesian wells.

Cruz Amassed Wealth.

Gen. Roberto Cruz made several fortunes. As governor of the state of Puebla and supporter of the most radical of creeds, he laid by more than enough to support him in his old age. As one of the foremost generals in the revolutionary army he put away another sizable nest egg. As commander of the metropolitan police he had many opportunities of amassing wealth, which he never neglected to make use of. Those who know him say that his police job was worth a million to him.

Gen. Marcelo Caraveo is perhaps the business genius of the revolting generals. He is accredited one of the richest men in the state of Chihuahua, where millionaires are more numerous than in any other part of the republic outside the federal district. He has accumulated over a score of large haciendas, the result of his frugality while governor of the state of Chihuahua and while an occupant of various other public offices in the same state. He is the owner of a mine which is said to bring him a hundred thousand dollars a month and to be worth three million dollars.

CART AWAY LOOT FROM STORE.

Five bandits held up the manager and an assistant of the Paul & Wiley clothing store at 6718 Stony Island avenue, looted and escaped two customers, and carried out $5,000 worth of stock yesterday. The loot was loaded into a truck and driven away.

TERMINABLE CAR GRANT ATTACKED BY LEGISLATORS

Bills Get Few Kind Words at Transit Dinner.

Chicago's transit bills, agreed upon by the city and the companies and now pending at Springfield, may not meet with kind treatment in the legislature. If the reception they were accorded by ten assemblymen at an informal meeting with representatives of the city and the companies' committee last night is to be taken as an indication of the temper of the legislators as a whole.

The legislators, all Cook county lawyers, were invited by Sidney S. Gorham, attorney for the companies' committee, to a dinner at the Chicago Athletic club to discuss the measures scheduled for their first hearing in the house municipalities committee Thursday. For more than three hours the group debated their merits.

Object to Terminable Grants. From the outset the legislators voiced objections, and several times appeared openly hostile, especially to the terminable permit bill, described by several as a "perpetual franchise" measure. There also was opposition to the proposed transit commission bill with three members to be appointed by the mayor.

Present at the dinner were Senators J. J. Barbour, T. J. Courtney, Harry W. Starr and Lowell B. Mason, and Representatives Michael L. Igoe, W. G. Thon, Frank A. McCarthy, G. W. Blackwell, E. J. Schnackenberg, and H. B. Gaines. Representing the city and companies' committee were Mr. Gorham, and Ald. J. E. McDonough (13th), Jacob Arvey (24th), E. J. Frankhauser (49th), Oscar P. Nelson (46th), and B. A. Conson (4th), members of the transportation committee, and their lawyers.

Virtually no opposition was voiced to either the bill providing for unification or that for the construction

CITY, COUNTY, SCHOOL BOARD SEEK FUNDS TO MEET SHORTAGE

The city, county, and school board acted yesterday to complete their plans for disposing of tax anticipation warrants to secure operating funds. The local governmental bodies were spurred in their efforts by the impending salary and other obligations due shortly.

City officials conferred at length with bankers. As no announcement was made it was assumed that no agreement has been reached. The city has been attempting to arrange for a loan of millions from New York or Chicago bankers. County Treasurer Harding's attorneys were busy on the draft of a bill to provide for the issuance of notes instead of tax anticipation warrants as a means of borrowing money. The task will be completed in time for him to take the draft to Springfield today.

County employees were discussing a rumor that the bi-weekly pay roll, customarily paid the 7th or 8th of the month, will be delayed. Treasurer Harding issued a statement which, while verifying the report, indicated that the delay will be a matter of but a few days. More than $470,000, including approximately $300,000 in salaries, falls due.

H. Wallace Caldwell, president of the school board, announced that he will confer today with Controller George E. Schmidt in an effort to market sufficient warrants to permit the schools to function for the remainder of the year. Civil service pay rolls of the board, due last Saturday, have not yet been paid. He will ask that $38,000,000 in warrants be sold, instead of $20,000,000, as originally planned.

Barbour Heads Attack. "I'll tell you right now, gentlemen," declared Senator Barbour at the climax of the discussion, "I am not going to vote for that bill as you have drawn it. So far as I can see, it calls for the same old thing—a perpetual franchise—which the companies tried to sell us in 1927."

Others attacking the proposed termination of the franchise were Ald. Nelson, supported by the other councilmen, argued that under the terminable permit bill the city could write into an ordinance its own terms whereby the franchise could be terminated or another purchaser for the lines designated. He said he thought the bill was "as fool proof in this respect as any bill could possibly be drawn."

minable grant as a "perpetual franchise" were Courtney and Schnackenberg. Both protested the absence of specific provisions under which the city could secure the company into rendering good service.

Mr. Schnackenberg suggested a clause for consolidation of franchises in case of failure to serve public convenience and necessity. "If the companies are acting in good faith, why should they object to such a clause?" he asked.

"For the reason that they could not then sell their securities," Mr. Gorham replied. "The investing public would not be assured the franchise would be safe."

Calls Bill Fool Proof. Ald. Nelson, supported by the other councilmen, argued that under the terminable permit bill the city could write into an ordinance its own terms whereby the franchise could be terminated or another purchaser for the lines designated. He said he thought the bill was "as fool proof in this respect as any bill could possibly be drawn."

Criticism of the transit commission bill came chiefly from Senator Barbour, who asserted that it meant domination of the transit affairs of Evanston, Oak Park, and other suburban towns by a Chicago city administration.

"I represent 70,000 people who want a stinking mayor of Chicago to have nothing to do with their affairs," Barbour said.

"What about the stinking Illinois commerce commission which controls your affairs now?" countered Mr. Gorham.

"It's preferable to the city of Chicago," Barbour replied.

Wants Mayors on Board. Senator Barbour proposed that the mayors of the large suburban towns within the thirty mile radius covered by the proposed transit districts be made ex-officio members of the commission. Within a few years, he argued, there will be more people within the circle outside than inside Chicago.

"Not unless Chicago solves its transit problem," retorted Ald. Nelson. "Lack of transportation is the very thing holding up suburban development."

Despite the opposition manifested to the two bills, Mr. Gorham declared after the meeting that he was well satisfied with the progress that had been made. The citizens' committee, he said, valued the criticism offered and would study it. There is nothing about the bills, he said, and their proponents are anxious to remedy any defects before, rather than after, they come to a showdown at Springfield.

only any defects before, rather than after, they come to a showdown at Springfield.

Budd Expresses Mergers' Policy. Britton I. Budd, president of the elevated lines, in a statement issued before the dinner last night, announced that negotiations toward the consolidation of the transit companies preparatory to putting the unification bill into effect will be undertaken in the near future.

Mr. Budd's statement was in reply to charges by James Simpson, chairman of the citizens' committee, that the companies are delaying consolidation proceedings. "We will cooperate in every way to see what can be done along the lines suggested by Mr. Simpson," the Budd statement said. "It is the desire of the companies to try to do all that seems best to bring about a consolidation. Consolidation is a complex subject and needs a good deal of study. We will be able to give the matter thought soon so as to be able to discuss it with Mr. Simpson and the citizens' committee."

WINS CUSTODY OF CHILDREN. Superior Judge Joseph Sabath yesterday granted the custody of four children to Harry W. Feldman, 1246 South Crawford avenue, whose divorced wife, Ruth, married her husband, Harry Owsin, 2300 Warren street.

VALUE OF CARS TOPIC AT 35TH 'L' FARE HEARING

Replacement Cost Is Disputed by City.

The 35th of a series of legal tiffs between the city of Chicago and the Chicago Rapid Transit company over the legality of the company's straight ten cent fare was featured yesterday by arguments over the replacement value of the 1,829 cars in use on elevated lines.

David M. Ritchie, sales engineer for the Cleveland Car company, which has supplied the elevated lines with new cars since 1914, on cross-examination testified that it would require $31,123,394 to replace with new cars all the rolling stock now in use on the lines.

Asks for More Detail.

Congressman Frank R. Reid, who is representing the city in the hearings before Master in Chancery Rowland B. Mason, objected to the admission of Ritchie's testimony without the presentation of specifications amplifying his statements. The congressman also contended that rolling stock now in use by the company was second hand, and as such could not be valued at the price of new property.

Ritchie was ordered to return with the car company's records showing in detail the quantities and prices of materials used in making the various types of cars.

Still Pay 10 Cent Fare.

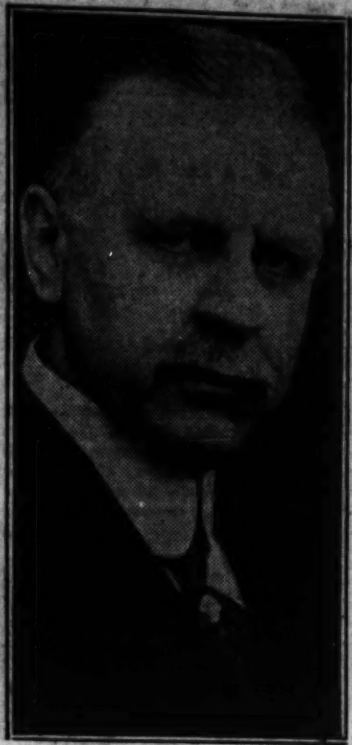

During the course of the hearings, which enter their two hundred sixty-ninth day today, patrons of the elevated lines have continued to pay the straight ten cent fare demanded by the company, which obtained a temporary injunction in the federal courts to restrain the Illinois Commerce commission from interfering with the collection. The city appears in the controversy as an intervening petitioner, asking that the injunction not be made permanent.

The hearings are scheduled to be resumed this morning.

U. S. Intercepts $5,000 Still Shipped Here from Omaha

An alcohol still billed from Omaha to Chicago was discovered by prohibition agents under Assistant Administrator George H. Hurlburt yesterday in a freight car on the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad tracks. The still, valued at about $5,000, was consigned to the "Jones Roofing and Construction company," in care of the T. M. Wickham Trading company, 2415 West Tilden street. According to Mr. Hurlburt, there is no such construction concern as the one named and the trading company refused the shipment.

RESIGNS

Judge Francis A. Winslow of United States court, against whom articles of impeachment were recently read in congress, quits under fire.

BEGIN BUILDING PLANETARIUM IN PARK TODAY

Work on the construction of the $700,000 planetarium given to Chicago by Max Adler, philanthropist, will start today with excavating and pile driving on the island east of the Shedd aquarium in Grant park, according to an announcement last night by South Park commissioners. The twelve sided granite structure, from whose center will rise a copper dome 90 feet in diameter, is to be completed about Jan. 1, 1930, it was said.

Within the building, intricate machinery imported from Jena, Germany, will show the course of the heavenly bodies and it will be possible to demonstrate within a few minutes the progress of stars and planets for many years. Each of the twelve sides of the planetarium will be 40 feet long and will each be decorated with one of the twelve signs of the zodiac.

Spanning the 600 foot lagoon which separates the island from the mainland, a three span concrete bridge to cost $950,000 is to be built by the South Park board.

Steals Street Car, Goes Joy Riding; Police Stop Him

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 1.—(AP)—C. J. Costa, 25, of Carnegie, was held today on a charge of stealing a trolley car. Police said he took it from the yards of the Pittsburgh Railways company, and went joy riding Saturday night.

WINSLOW QUILTS BENCH; BANKRUPT HEARING HALTED

New Yorker's Resignation
Accepted by Hoover

New York, April 1.—[Special.]—Federal Judge Francis A. Winslow, the gray and stern man who has sat on the bench here since 1923, today announced that he had resigned.

The resignation takes effect immediately. It was submitted a week and a half ago and was accepted at them by President Hoover. No further action is necessary.

Judge Winslow's decision to leave office follows his impeachment on the floor of the house of representatives by Congressman P. H. Taft, guardian and the inauguration of a congressional inquiry into his alleged connection with the "bankruptcy ring" operating here.

Judge Winslow in a statement maintained that his accusers had failed to "impute his personal integrity" and explained he was resigning because the charges had definitely ended his usefulness on the federal bench.

Immediately on receipt of news of the resignation, the preliminary hearings of the congressional committee were abandoned by Ildoro J. Krasel, special counsel for the committee. The charges against Judge Winslow, beginning at the same time as the flight of David Steinhardt, formerly prominent Republican politician, who has been a large receiver in bankruptcy cases, for several years, came as a surprise.

The flight of Steinhardt, the confession of his alleged accomplice, Max Binzer, and the beginning of the grand jury investigation brought Winslow's name into the scandal.

Meyer Kaplan, perennial bankrupt, charged he had paid $5,000 to Marcus Helfand, a personal friend of Winslow, to obtain for him a probationary sentence.

Accusations Come Fast. Accusations then multiplied rapidly, and Winslow was charged with many favors to Helfand.

Kaplan's statements were flatly denied by both Helfand and Judge Winslow. Helfand later resigned from both the federal and New York state bar and gave up his associations as attorney in bankruptcy cases.

The Good Candy shop inquiry before Federal Judge Thatcher brought to light the fact that Stuart Easton, attorney and stepson of Judge Winslow, had received an automobile from the estate of the bankrupt without payment to the bankrupt.

POLAND'S JOAN, BRAVE AND FAIR, VISITS CHICAGO

More but the brave deserve the fair, but when the fair are also the brave—what then? Lieut. Zofia Nowostelska of the Polish army, who arrived in Chicago yesterday, an arresting figure in her khaki military uniform with a touch of old blue at the collar, suggested both the question and the answer. She wears eight different decorations bestowed on her by her government as a reward for heroic action on the battlefield and for the valor with which she led her men.

Her military career came seeking her when the town of Lwow was attacked in 1918. Even children were reinforcing the thin Polish lines and, with many other women, Mrs. Nowostelska caught up a rifle and took her place beside the others.

Marching and fighting valiantly, she participated in at least four of the major battles of the war, receiving four wounds on her head alone and others on her limbs. She carries a Harry Stern of Benton Harbor.

GUARD BEAUTY AT THE DANGER LINE

MOUTH hygiene is so important these days! Not only for the charm of a pleasant smile—but also because decayed teeth and irritated gums can often destroy the radiant beauty of health.

To be safe, guard The Danger Line—where teeth and gums meet. In its tiny V-shaped crevices acids form that cause the most treacherous form of tooth decay and gum irritation. No tooth-brush can reach into all these crevices to rub the acids away. But Squibb's Dental Cream, made with more than 50% Squibb's Milk of Magnesia, effectively neutralizes them.

Squibb's contains no soaps, grit, or anything that could injure the delicate mouth tissues. Its use, together with regular visits to your dentist, will give you the best protection possible. 40c a large tube.

SET MICHAELSON LIQUOR TRIAL FOR MAY COURT TERM

Congressman Denies All
Guilt; Gives Bond.

Congressman M. Alfred Michaelson, who surrendered at the federal building yesterday on a warrant charging violations of the liquor law, will go to trial in the United States District court at Key West, Fla., at the regular term beginning on May 6. It was learned last night. The congressman, a pronounced dry who voted for the June 5 and 19 law, faces three charges of importation, transportation and possession of intoxicating liquor. Michaelson gave himself up yesterday morning, waived examination on removal proceedings to Florida, and left the federal building hurriedly after posting his $2,000 bond in four $500 bills. He declined to be interviewed, but denied that he had smuggled eleven quarts and a bag of bones into the country from Havana, Cuba, on Jan. 3, 1928, as the Florida indictment charges.

Promises Full Statement.

"I am not guilty of this charge and all I ask is that the public withhold its judgment until the matter has been settled in court," he said. The congressman promised that a complete statement denying his guilt would be sent to newspaper offices later in the day, but the statement had not been received at a late hour.

Early yesterday morning Michaelson called United States District Attorney George H. G. Johnson and said he would surrender himself on the warrant in a short time. He asked that the matter be attended with as little publicity as possible. Mr. Johnson conferred with his assistant, Eugene A. Tappay, and shortly afterwards the congressman, unattended, appeared in Tappay's office, where the warrant was read to him. United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker came to the office for the files in the case and was followed to his own court by Michaelson, where the proceedings were quickly concluded.

Despite his wish to avoid publicity, the congressman was photographed by cameramen who were in the federal building on another matter.

Must Go to Key West.

Michaelson will not be forced to appear here again on the charge but is required to go direct to Key West at the beginning of the May term of court.

Although the warrant was issued Friday, Michaelson was not heard from over the weekend, which gave rise to a report that he had decided to surrender himself in Florida. He told reporters yesterday that he had been in "the east" and had just returned to Chicago.

The dry congressman was indicted in Jacksonville in October, 1928, but the true bill was kept secret from Chicago officials until early in January when he was attending congress and was thus immune from arrest. His indictment became public information only last Thursday.

The Tribune was in error Friday morning when it stated that A. H. Severinghaus and Frank Meese were indicted in connection with fees paid to so-called city hall real estate experts. That statement was incorrect. Michaelson was connected with the case but Mr. Severinghaus and Mr. Meese were not indicted.

Kills Wife Because She Refused to Attend Movie

(Chicago Tribune From Service.)

BERLIN, April 1.—Willy Koehler, a 24-year-old Berlin chauffeur, shot and killed his wife yesterday because she refused to go to the movies because it cost 25 cents. He then tried to kill himself, and was removed to a hospital in a critical condition.

STIMSON SENDS FOR OLD SOAK, HIS PARROT THAT SPEAKS CHINESE

Washington, D. C., April 1.—(AP)—The state department dropped international affairs for a brief time today to deal with the case of a Chinese speaking parrot in the Philippines.

Secretary of State Harry L. Stimson ordered cablegrams dispatched ordering that "The Old Soak," the secretary's pet parrot while he was governor general of the Philippines, be sent to the state department with all possible speed. "The Old Soak" speaks no English and just what he says in Chinese no one here knows, but it was of such a noisy nature that Mrs. Stimson laid down the rule before leaving Manila that the Old Soak would not be a member of the secretary's party in coming to Washington.

Early today, however, a letter from a friend of the secretary in the Philippines revealed that "The Old Soak" was lonely. Secretary Stimson was so touched by the letter that he immediately cabled orders that the parrot be sent to Washington.

If Mrs. Stimson holds firm to her ruling that the parrot cannot be a member of the Stimson household, he may take up his quarters in the office of the secretary of state.

Mystery Man Found Shot; Says Plane Swooped on Him

(Chicago Tribune From Service.)

REGINA, Sask., April 1.—Blooded freely from a bullet wound in the head and unable to open his mouth sufficiently to take food, a man known as Mustanka, the Bushman, staggered out of the wilds of northern Saskatchewan today. He said he had been shot from a mystery plane which swooped down from overhead. His condition is serious, and mounted police are investigating the strange affair. Mustanka, himself a man of mystery, entered the bush a few weeks ago in search of game.

FREEZE WITH HEAT The ELECTROLUX Refrigerator

The gas that COOKS your meal KEEPS your baby's milk

There is no machinery to this really modern refrigeration. A tiny silent gas flame does all the work.

NO MOVING PARTS
NO VIBRATION
NO SOUND
NO WEAR

ODD how time changes things. It wasn't very long ago that the best homes were lighted by gas. Then came electric lights and out went gas.

Today, gas is again on top. Science has found another job that it can do best, in addition to providing heat. Strange enough, the new use is to provide cold. Thus you can now cook food or cool it, boil water or freeze it, simply and economically with gas. And the product that has made this paradox possible is Electrolux, the gas refrigerator.

Young as this newcomer is, it has already grown to giant importance. Today Electrolux is used in tens of thousands of homes. Experts have called it the greatest achievement since the first crude ice machine. Leading architects all over the country have specified it for the newer, finer types of apartment buildings.

Until you see Electrolux you haven't seen perfect refrigeration—noiseless, not a single moving part, free from vibration and trouble.

Your family's health is safeguarded by a steady cold temperature which keeps foods fresh.

Total
cost of operation
5 to 8½ cents
in Chicago

Gas and water are not only relatively cheap, but the Electrolux uses only a tiny gas flame and a mere trickle of water. That is why the operating cost is ridiculously low.

The water flow is a mere trickle. That is the secret of the low operating cost.

The flame burns without attention, without thought on your part. Should it ever go out for some unforeseen reason, no harm is done. The chilling action stops, but the gas automatically shuts off and cannot flow again until you light it. There is not a thing to renew or replace about this refrigerator, unless it be the inexpensive gas burner after years of use. With no friction or wear scientists can find no good reason why the Electrolux should ever give out, any more than your kitchen table.

At the nearest display room you will find a wide choice of sizes and models in white and color. Prices run from $225 to $610 f. o. b. Evansville. Terms are liberal. If you wish complete information by mail, send coupon.

Maple Arms, 2111 Myra Court, Brooklyn, N. Y. One of a group of apartments built by Spitzer and Spitzer, Inc., which are all Electrolux equipped. Boris W. Dorfman, architect.

Homes Assemble Spring Ensembles

Congenial conversational groupings are the keynote of the modern home. A chair attracts its complements in table and lamp; in the bedroom, a dressing table and its accessories make a decorative "spot"; even bathrooms go in for ensembles. Three typical examples are sketched, combining pieces that are natural companions.

HOUSE'S SEARCH FOR PAY ROLLING LEGISLATORS ON

Committee Digs Into Records of Canal Board.

BY CARL WARREN.

Five members of the Branson investigation committee of the house of representatives spent most of yesterday digging into the records of the sanitary district in search of evidence to show the double pay roll connections of their fellow legislators.

After a conference with State Attorney John A. Swanson, who promised his full cooperation, the committee spent the morning going through the card index list of pay rollers in his possession and the afternoon thumbing through ledgers and cancelled vouchers at the district office. From each of the records they took memoranda, indicating the supposed services and amounts drawn by each legislator.

Procedure In Doubt.

The problem which is said to be causing anxiety among the committee members already is just what they are going to do with the pay roll information after they have it all in hand. On this question there apparently is a division of opinion. One member stated frankly yesterday that he failed to see any possible punishment which the committee or the house itself can administer to the double pay rollers while others said they were in doubt about the matter.

The representatives took particular interest in the so-called "statement" ledger in the district office, listing payments to legislators not on the regular pay rolls. There they were reported to have found eighty-five vouchers made out to Representative Lawrence C. O'Brien of Chicago and numerous others to other Chicago assemblymen.

Members of the committee on duty yesterday were Representative R. J. Branson of Centralia; Harry Barker, Newman; C. D. Franz, Peoria; Carl E. Holbrook, Jacksonville, and Lee M. McDonough, Waukegan. The two absent were Leroy M. Green of Rockford and Thomas E. Shennett of Rock Island.

Chairman Branson announced that part of the committee will remain in Chicago today to continue the investigation. All will return to Springfield tomorrow morning when the house reconvenes.

Assistant State Attorney John Elliot Ryne announced yesterday that he is preparing an appeal to the Supreme court from the ruling of Judge Dennis Sullivan in an effort to regain possession of the Central Auto Service company records of sanitary district pleasure parties. The records now are in possession of the Starr senate investigation committee.

Isaac Doff, former committeeman of the 35th ward, recently indicted on seven counts of forging signatures to sanitary district pay checks, is expected to surrender this morning to Chief Deputy Sheriff Charles A. Mupler. He will be accompanied by Attorney Samuel Hoffman, former assistant state attorney, who has been retained to defend him.

According to Doff, he has been in Mount Clemens, Mich., taking treatment. He declared that "a terrible mistake" has been made in his case. He announced that he will instruct his attorney to ask for an early trial.

Choice for Colonel

MAJ. LILEBURN JACKSON.

A board of three brigadier generals was organized yesterday to try Col. Otis B. Duncan, colored, in connection with alleged irregularities in the handling of government property by men under the command as commander of the Eighth Infantry, Illinois National Guard. The taking of testimony will begin next Monday. Col. Duncan has been temporarily relieved of his command by Lieut. Clinton Rush. Members of the board are Abel Davis, John J. Garrity and Frank R. Schwengel.

Police Sergeant Lileburn J. Jackson, also colored, who is a major in the regiment, is being considered for the position as colonel. Jackson has fifteen years' service to his credit and was cited for bravery while in France.

Jackson has also been recommended to Gov. Emmerson by the officers of the regiment for the post.

CANDY JOBBERS ON TRIAL TODAY AS RACKETEERS

Thirty-nine officers, former officers, and members of the Chicago Association of Candy Jobbers will go on trial this morning before Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley charged with violating the Sherman anti-trust law. There were among the first indictments to be returned following the government's investigation of racketeering in Chicago more than a year ago.

The principal defendants in the case are Albert A. Hoffman, president of the organization; Henry Meisterling, first vice president; John D. Hand, secretary-treasurer, and Simon Gorman, business manager.

MOTOR DEATH TOLL REDUCED, CORONER FINDS

Cook county's motor death toll for 1928 is considerably lower than for the corresponding period of last year, Coroner Herman N. Bundesen announced yesterday after a study of the latest reports for the two periods. Only 180 deaths have resulted, as against 228 in 1928. The statistics are based on the number of inquests closed in the three month period and do not agree with the number of actual deaths, which stands at 261.

Monthly statistics prepared by the coroner's office follow:

	1928	1929
January	83	85
February	67	57
March	78	61

Total 228 180

Two deaths were reported in Cook county yesterday. The victims: Joseph Dallas, 63 year old, 11180 South Crawford avenue, a grave digger. Believed to have been the victim of a hit and run automobile. Found unconscious in the street at Trumbull avenue and 111th street Monday morning and died at the St. Francis hospital, Blue Island today.

Miss Louise Shink, 34 years old

3101 South Clinton avenue, Berwyn.

Died in the Berwyn hospital of injuries received Sunday night when the automobile in which she and five other people were riding was struck by a Douglas Park elevated train at Gundersen avenue. Miss Jeanne Shink, a twin sister, and Frank Spiliotis, 19 years old, 1631 South 51st court, Cicero, are in a serious condition at the hospital.

Four Hurt in Crash.

Four persons were injured when two automobiles collided at Washington boulevard and Paulina street. The injured are Morris Tannebaum, 35 years old, 5471 Madison street, Miss Isabelle Bernstein of Elgin, his companion, and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Lieberman, 321 Independence boulevard. Robert Emmett, 1703 Austin avenue, driver of the second car, who escaped injury, was held.

Mrs. Madeline Drell, 29 years old, 644 Bittersweet place, lost the sight of her left eye when the auto driven by her husband, Benjamin B. Drell, a cigar store owner, skidded into a tree in Lincoln park. Her eyeball was pierced by glass from the windshield. Drell was slightly injured.

Police Sergeant Lileburn J. Jackson, also colored, who is a major in the regiment, is being considered for the position as colonel. Jackson has fifteen years' service to his credit and was cited for bravery while in France.

Jackson has also been recommended to Gov. Emmerson by the officers of the regiment for the post.

The new $1,500,000 de luxe Criminal court building opened yesterday amid a flood of complaints about the general arrangements and location, and by noon Judge Frank Comerford had actually abandoned his courtroom and moved the trial of the thirteen Miller benchmen. Judge Comerford ordered his trial moved back downtown to the county building and announced that his jurors would be housed in a first class hotel instead of the quarters furnished at the new jail building.

Judge Comerford dubbed his beautifully decorated courtroom as one fitted for the Hollywood movie colony, but not for practical trial work. He complained of the acoustical arrangement and said that it appeared that everybody except the judge and jury could hear what was going on.

Criticize Dining Arrangements.
The facilities for the care and feeding of the locked up jurors also came in for criticism, but Warden Edward J. Fogarty said he hoped to remedy the last complaint by prevailing on the county board to supply him with waiter service.

Under the present system Warden Fogarty is forced to use some of his trusty prisoners to act as waiters for the jurors. The warden also pointed out that the jury quarters have not yet been completely furnished and that when this is done it will do away with at least part of the complaints.

Judge Comerford complained of the fire hazards under the system which locked jurors up alone on the second floor of the building. Eric Hall, the county architect, however, says that there is no fire hazard because the building is fireproof.

Others Join in Protest.

Judges Harry B. Miller and Robert E. Gentzel joined in the general anvil chorus. "It seems that everybody has been provided for except the general public, the judges, the jurors, the attorneys, and witnesses," said Judge Miller. "Of course the transportation feature is not so bad as far as the judges are concerned because they own automobiles, but what is the poor, average citizen to do who is not in the automobile class?" "What are the jurors to do who are locked up? They are virtually in jail themselves. They hardly dare go out for a walk in this neighborhood after dark, and if they do all they can see is either the Bridgeway or posthouse, or wander up and down the railroad tracks to the north of the building. The windows in the room are small and look like those in a jail cell."

Judge on a Throne.
Judge Gentzel voiced the general complaint of all judges that the throne upon which the jurist sits is too high and far away from the scene of action. A huge ventilating fan is placed directly to the rear and above the judge, and if this is turned on he cannot hear, it is pointed out, and if it is turned off he can hear what is going on in the room directly above.

"It looks like the men who designed this place meant to keep the judges fair and impartial by preventing them from hearing what is going on in their courtrooms," remarked one of the bailiffs.

Twelve of the thirteen judges appeared for court, but only one stayed all day—that being Judge Dennis J. Normoyle. State's Attorney Swanson also went down town early in the day and did not return to the far west side.

FIGURE TREASURY
SURPLUS IN 1929
AT 150 MILLIONS

Income Tax Collections
in March $595,000,000

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., April 1.—[Special.]—Income tax collections in March amounted to $595 million dollars, the largest total in any March since 1921. The United States treasury surplus for this fiscal year likely will exceed 150 million dollars, according to unofficial estimates.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, in announcing total receipts for the month, made no comment on the possibility of another tax reduction. While he indicated in a radio speech on Saturday night that further reductions might be made, it is regarded as probable that he will not propose any substantial cut soon. He may wish to wait until March, 1930, to determine whether revenues are to remain permanently on the unexpected basis indicated by this year's tax return.

Income tax payments for March amounted to almost $60 million dollars more than was predicted by the treasury experts. The June payments are expected to run as much as 70 million dollars above estimates. These two amounts added would show a treasury surplus for the fiscal year ending June 30 of 150 million dollars more than was anticipated.

The treasury had estimated a surplus of about 25 million dollars. On this basis, the total surplus would be plus of about 25 million dollars. Treasury officials attributed the unusual income tax receipts of the month to the abnormal speculative activity of 1928. They pointed out that the government might not have profited to so great an extent if surplus rates had remained at the levels of former years.

JONES LAW CASE AGAINST DRY U.S. LAWMAKER SEEN

Question Customs Men on Rep. Morgan Charge.

BY TOM PETTEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
New York, April 1.—(Special.)—An investigation that may result in Congressman William M. Morgan, a dry, being caught between the sharp teeth of the Jones law, for which he voted, was begun here today by Charles H. Tuttle, United States attorney.

Tonight a kind of left handed "noble experiment" in the way of a test case appeared inevitable. Six customs men were questioned for two hours behind closed doors while stenographers took down their tale of the dry gentleman from Ohio and the four charges of whiskey they insist he brought in from Panama.

The customs men left smiling at 5 o'clock. "We cannot tell you any more than we already have," said Philip H. Eiting, collector of the port, as he allowed his way through the crowd. "Any statement will have to come from Mr. Tuttle."

Intimate Quis Is Fruitful.
Mr. Tuttle was not ready to talk. He has not cleaned up the case, but he intimated the afternoon had been fruitful and said he would decide whether to take the case before the grand jury after he had questioned two other customs men tomorrow morning.

From other sources it was learned the customs agents stuck to their story that Congressman Morgan brought in four quarts of liquor, admitted ownership, and bawled out the agents because his baggage had not been expedited. The entire matter of granting so-called "courtesy of the port" to incoming congressmen and their friends was gone into and its abuses related by the customs officials.

"I cannot tell you what happened here this afternoon," said Mr. Tuttle, "because the case is only half completed. Tomorrow I will have the original report made by Agents James McCabe and L. E. Crawford concerning the pier episode. I will check the story told to me by these same agents against their official report and if I consider it advisable will then make the entire matter public."

Mr. Tuttle was asked if he had heard that Congressman Morgan assumed responsibility of the liquor to protect the wife of a fellow congressman, Thomas Hall of North Dakota. Mr. Hall also is reported to be a dry and a member of the Anti-Saloon league.

"I never heard of Mrs. Hall," Mr. Tuttle said. "Bringing in liquor, whether it be for a woman or any one else, is against the law. I have not heard from Mr. Morgan, nor have I sought to communicate with him."

Brought In for Another?
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Washington, D. C., April 1.—Reports that the four bottles of whiskey found by customs inspectors in the baggage of Representative W. M. Morgan (Rep., O.), when he arrived in New York from Panama last Monday, belonged to the wife of one of his house colleagues continued to circulate through the capital today in spite of the emphatic denials of members of the Morgan family.

Morgan, who has persistently denied the charges of the customs inspectors that they returned the liquor to the Ohioan, when he demanded "freedom of the port," could not be found today. Newspaper men who trooped to his office were confronted with a sign on the door.

"To Press Reporters: Nothing more to say,"—William M. Morgan, it read.

One Motor Car Fact No Buyer Can Escape

Every motor car buyer seeking the finest, confronts the simple fact that the finest precision laboratories in the world today are the manufacturing plants in which Cadillac and La Salle are produced. The fact that Cadillac-LaSalle happen also to be the smartest and most artistic cars on the streets of the world is only incidental to the more important fact that anyone can detect their superior difference the moment he steps from other cars into Cadillac or La Salle. The world's highest standard of precision manufacture immediately reveals itself in performance.

THERE have always been and always will be certain commodities that stand out above their competition. By common consent they are accepted as the symbols of highest quality and greatest prestige in their respective fields.

This has been the good fortune of Cadillac in the fine car group for 25 years, but today, by reason of exclusive features of safety and ease, it is true with so much greater emphasis that it is a fact no buyer can possibly escape.

As is the case with all other leaders, Cadillac's superiority is the result of deliberate planning and intensive effort. There has been nothing lacking in precision methods, nothing overlooked in mechanical equipment or scientific experiment, nothing to equal the resources in time, money and expert knowledge lavished on Cadillac and the Cadillac-built La Salle.

The Cadillac-La Salle environment, consequently, can not be duplicated. There is also a certain "feel" in the performance of these cars and in their riding and driving qualities that is never experienced elsewhere. You have only to drive a Cadillac or La Salle and then step into any other car to note the immeasurable difference.

There are new features in Cadillac and La Salle found in no other cars that will give you special satisfaction because they bear so heavily on the safety of yourself and your family.

We refer particularly to the Cadillac-La Salle Synchro-Mesh Silent-Shift Transmission which is not only clashless, but almost instantaneous in action and removes all awkwardness from gear shifting.

Also the Cadillac-La Salle Duplex-Mechanical Four-Wheel Brakes, the most powerful ever developed, yet the easiest and quickest to operate.

Then there is still another safety feature that adds so much to your peace of mind—Cadillac-La Salle Security-Plate Glass in all doors, windows and windshields—so that there is no longer any danger from flying glass fragments.

No offer of long trading allowances from other cars can possibly compensate for these advantages or for the brilliance, smoothness and unvarying reliability of the Cadillac-La Salle 90-degree, V-Type, 8-cylinder engine, or for the beauty and prestige that belong only to these cars. If you want what Cadillac or La Salle give there is literally nowhere else to turn.

In addition to 23 refreshingly beautiful Fisher Bodies for the new Cadillac and the new La Salle, there are 15 exclusive and exquisite custom-built models Fleetwood designed and Fleetwood built.

La Salle is priced from $2295 to $2875; Cadillac $3295 to $3995; Fleetwoods up to $7000—all prices f. o. b. Detroit. Cadillac-La Salle dealers welcome business on the General Motors Deferred Payment Plan.

FIELD CREST SUITS

Are Ready for Distinguished Service This Spring—$65 to $110

The supreme development of our clothing experience . . . our own Suit Creations with our own name for our own patrons . . . perfected after years of planning and introduced today in their first complete showing. Designed by artists . . . and molded by hand in a genuine harmony of fashion and anatomy . . . to reflect most types of figures to best advantage . . . representing the Marshall Field & Company ideal . . . an entire line based upon the finest of fabrics and most skillful of craftsmanship in our own studio and factory

Pastel shades in bath-rooms! . . . cars in color lacquer! . . . mahogany cruisers! . . . dishpans in horizon blue! . . . now pens and ironers in delicate hues!—in such an age can harmony and style in Suits be overlooked?

Inevitably . . . when a man becomes the center of attention in a business conference, his appearance (enhanced or caricatured by his apparel) is under the critical inspection of his associates and clients.

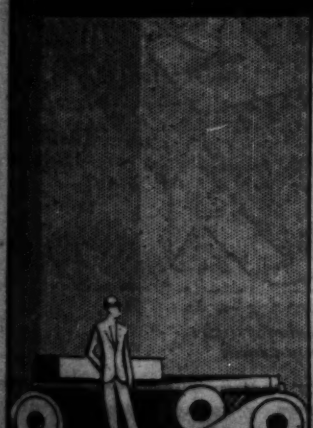

The Field Crest has been planned for discerning men who have sought, sometimes with "fire-eyed despair," for the individually harmonizing ready-for-service Suits that avoid that standardized Robot look.

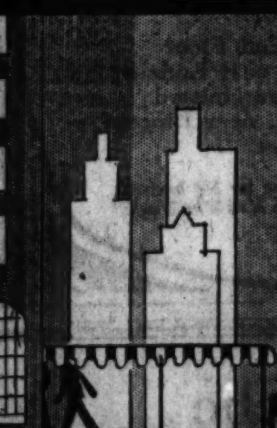

"The few create for the many to copy" . . . has been the history of all art and architecture . . . and the Field Crest, we believe, is one of the sensible creations of art in clothes design, for men and young men.

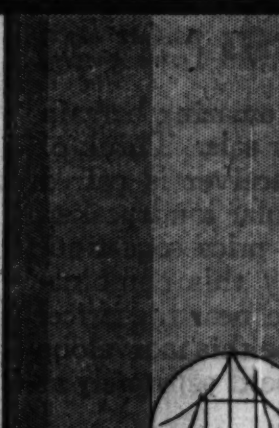

It has taken time and money to evolve the Field Crest models for 1929. Travel abroad and trained observation in centers of social prestige have played a part. We have been glad to give these suits our name.

The motor car of 1929 "sells on its looks" as well as its merit . . . and so does the average man. Many successful executives today are conspicuous for their distinction as well as for their business knowledge.

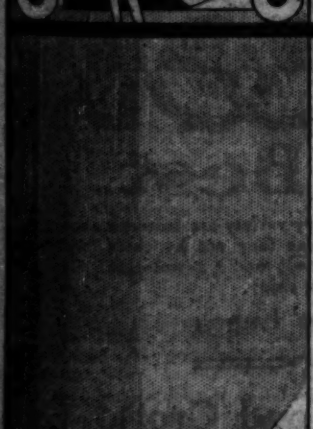

Even the affluent gentleman, because compelled to live in the cramped efficiency quarters dictated by city life of today, must select a multum in parvo wardrobe characterized by excellence rather than quantity.

Deft, subdued and subtle . . . The Field Crest styles avoid the commonplace and present the lines that good taste approves . . . in a complete range of sizes in 14 models—Banker, Consul, Duke, two Calvins, Craig, Alumnus, Field, Mayfair, Bowl, Rookery, Casino, Savile, Ticker—for most types of men and young men. We have on display at the present time literally thousands of these fine garments . . . especially created for Store for Men patrons.

At this time of "record claims as well as loans," should one speculate in clothes when Field Crest investment values are obtainable? We now present to reasonable budgets finest quality and style.

The Field Crest . . . recommended for its quality alone . . . avoids the "terrific vociferation" of price publicity and the phantasmagoria of selling practice with its jargon.

Said old Ben Jonson: "The common rhymers pour forth verses extempore, but there never came from one of them one sense worth the life of a day. I have met many of these rattles, that made a noise and buzzed. They had their hum, and no more."

Style now comes to the C. P. A. He knows the effect of smartness, color and style in merchandise upon recent annual financial statements. This applies to individuals as well as corporations . . . in credits or debits.

Field Crest Suits are definitely personal assets in this swift age that looks . . . and judges. Hence, an investment in assurance that should yield ample dividends in satisfaction and income is worth while.

The infelicity of spurious style is fully and embarrassingly realized when in contrast with authentically correct grooming. Hence, authoritative apparel service is of import to you.

Have you ever paused to realize how many pairs of eyes see your suit . . . and appraise you accordingly? Proper appareling has become a protective measure in these days of "clothes consciousness."

Talent and labor have been lavished upon these Field Crest Suits . . . in seeking "nothing short of perfection" in men's ready-for-service apparel. A profusion of selection in many patterns is now available.

4 FLYERS LOST IN AUSTRALIAN JUNGLE CYCLONE

Rescuers Scour Savage
Area by Land, Air, River

SYDNEY, Australia, April 1.—(U. P.)—A terrific cyclone struck the Wyndham area in northern Australia today, wrecking the trans-Pacific monoplane Southern Cross with a crew of four. The plane was forced down in a wild and inaccessible country. The storm hindered search efforts being made by airplane, river launch, and northwest mounted police patrols, guided by native bushmen. It was feared that Capt. Charles H. Kingsford-Smith and Capt. Charles P. F. Uhl, with their two companions, might be in grave danger from savage tribesmen or other perils of the deep jungle in which they landed.

The Southern Cross left Sydney at 10:45 a. m. Saturday on a flight to England, with Wyndham, on the north coast, the first scheduled stop. Kingsford-Smith and Uhl were accompanied by H. A. Litchfield, navigator, and T. H. McWilliams, radio operator. The storm, lost in a storm, passed beyond Wyndham, about 2,000 miles from Sydney.

Hoplessly Lost in Storm.
The last radio message from the Southern Cross said:
"We have been hopelessly lost in a dense tropical rain for ten hours. We are going to make a forced landing at a place we believe to be 175 miles from Wyndham. It is a remote country. With us back. We will communicate as soon as possible. Charles. Uhl." The radio then was silent.

The radio at Perth, on the west coast, has been calling the Southern Cross for 48 hours without result. The flyers carried 24 sandwiches, two bottles of tea, and some honey. Rescuers trusted that they might have come down near the Drysdale river mission, in which case they might find aid and "would have more chance of encountering friendly tribes. The Drysdale river region is covered with dense bush and jungle and is mostly unexplored. It abounds in wild animals and reptiles as well as large crocodiles, some of them reported to be man-eaters.

Search by Land, Water, and Air.
A northwest mounted police patrol launch left Wyndham at dawn today with gasoline and supplies to search along the banks of the river as far as it would penetrate. Other mounted police with aboriginal blacks, skilled in jungle tracking, left on the interior trail from Wyndham. A relief plane, piloted by Lieut. Woods, set out from Port Hedland at 4 a. m. Woods reported tonight that he had reached Flinders Crossing, 2,100 miles northwest of Sydney, without sighting any trace of the Southern Cross.

RESCUED CRUISE SHIP.
A motor launch from an inquiry in the Red Sea found the death messenger of William Smith, 66 years old, 4910 Fulton street.

ADMIRAL CRAVEN, GEN. MALONE BID LEGION GOOD-BY

At a bathhouse banquet given by the Advertising Men's post of the American Legion yesterday at the Sherman hotel, Maj. Gen. Paul H. Malone, who has been ordered to the Philippine Islands to assume charge of the military post there, and Admiral Thomas T. Craven, who is to head the Trans-Pacific patrol in Chile, said good-by to the Chicago Legionaires.

Speaking of the military conditions of the islands now as compared with the conditions 36 years ago when he was there after the Spanish-American war, Gen. Malone said: "Schools have been where waste lands were before, and the education of the new generation has rid the islands of the previous dirt and squalor. Manila today is one of the most sanitary cities in the world."

The traditional American policy of national defense must be kept up, the general told Legionnaires.

"Only by that means can we preserve that which we have fought for in the great war of 1917," he said.

Film

Destroys Teeth and robs them of all lustre

It clings to teeth so ordinary brushing fails to remove it successfully. A new way dentists urge.

ASK a famous screen star how to keep teeth dazzling white and she will tell you to keep teeth free of film. Ask your dentist how to avoid decay and pyorrhea, he will say, "Remove film from your teeth twice daily."

Today it's known film is the cause of dull, discolored teeth as well as the serious tooth and gum disorders. To remove it scientifically, employ the special film-removing dentifrice called Pepsodent.

FILM—What it is Run your tongue across your teeth and you will feel this film. It absorbs stains from food and smoking and turns white teeth dull.

It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. Film hardens into tartar. Germs by the millions breed in it. And germs, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Film must be removed each day. Ordinary brushing fails to do it successfully. So dentists urge the special film-removing dentifrice called Pepsodent.

First, Pepsodent curdles film, then removes it in gentle safety to enamel. No other way will make teeth as sparkling white. Write for free 10-day supply to The Pepsodent Co., 1104 S. Wabash Ave., Chicago, or ask your druggist for full-size tube. Find out, without delay, how white your teeth really are. You'll be amazed.

THE NEXT TAX REDUCTION.

The secretary of the treasury, Mr. Mellon, intimated in his recent radio address that a reduction in income tax rates might be expected if the tax continues to promise as large a revenue as was indicated in the March return. He said the treasury was favorably disposed toward a reduction of the taxes on earned incomes, provided any reductions are feasible, and had published a memorandum to that effect as long ago as November, 1923.

The difference between earned and unearned income has long been recognized. The distinction in taxation can be justified by the fact that the wealth from which unearned income is derived remains unimpaired after it has yielded a return to the possessor of it, while the wealth from which earned income is derived is the taxpayer himself and the paining of each year brings a step nearer the inevitable destruction of his capital through old age, infirmity, and death.

His wealth were derived from factories he could write off a substantial amount each year for the depreciation of his capital. The law does not grant a corresponding write-off against salaries, wages, and fees.

The discrimination is particularly unjust because it tends to prevent the wage and salary earner from making provision for the day when he can no longer earn his living. The money which the government takes as income tax is in reality a tax on savings. The government not only fails to give adequate recognition to the depreciation of the human machine but actually hinders the owner of the machine who seeks to set up an adequate depreciation reserve.

Mr. Mellon's announcement that he favors relief for earned incomes did not include any statement of what form the relief might take. It might be expressed as an increase in the earned income exemption or a reduction in the rate on earned incomes or it might take the form of an exemption from taxable income of the sums paid for a reasonable amount of life insurance. Insurance premiums are a pretty accurate gauge of human depreciation and a far more accurate one than the arbitrary rulings of the treasury department on the rate of depreciation of industrial plant and equipment.

The wage and salary earner and professional man will be grateful for relief, whatever form it may take. They will be thankful if their claims are again given inadequate consideration by congress when next it votes a tax reduction.

NEWS DRIFT.

Like the highlands above a great valley, Canada drains into the United States, and the northern half of the continent that in 1921 had 5,735,000 Canadians now has only 5,455,000, or a few less. Canada is shrinking, says an M. P. from Vancouver; men and their money and the products of the earth move south into the giant vortex of living and are absorbed. Like the sun, the United States draws lesser bodies towards its burning core.

Canada is a land of agriculture and minerals and of fish and forests. When crops in the west no longer have the heavy surpluses of the present, Canada will expand again. It is a great potentiality, and as long as rains fall and the black earth of the glaciers remains Canada will be a gracious land where men will wish to live.

Different is the gray Sahara that marks a belt of desolation across all northern Africa. Once this land was green and human beings lived there. For the great tree that lay on Europe left the Sahara a growing place. The races of mankind that later penetrated Europe found beginnings there and on the broad reaches of temperate land that lay across the present Mediterranean bed and on to the Caspian sea. Then the ice withdrew. The sea broke into the Mediterranean area and the Caspian region withdrew down slowly to the right steps of modern times. Men were dispersed and the early races filtered into Europe.

But Africa has fish as well as camels, and with the coming of British gill nets fishing in the far waters of Nyassa has become an industry. One fish in this great lake at the headwaters of the Nile is new and good to eat. The "nyassa" fish is its name, and a fish survey of Lake Victoria Nyassa has been undertaken. Fish are stable animals. Drought never worries them.

And whales flourish as of yore in the polar seas. A Norwegian whaler has returned from four months in the antarctic with 63,000 barrels of oil. Whales, 725 of them, were captured, and the Norse whaler carries the flag of the world's record as a whale killer. The whales, it would seem, need a new Moby Dick.

Measure teachers in Madison, Wis., may not get married, according to an edict from the superintendent's office. Marriage bothers them, the edict indicates, and weddings in school hours or school months strictly are prohibited. From Wisconsin such paternalism is strange, but from whales to the Sahara and to married teachers the world drives on.

Even artists have their tariff problems, and the massive grindings of the mills of time leave them their grist. American painters desire duties on French importations, but what the tariff experts will do remains a question. Art is a virtue but tender power that never has survived the thrust and pressure of restriction and outside censorship. Whether the censorship be moral or political or—as these artists ask—economic makes little difference. Tariffs on art will weaken more than help art in America.

Fifty per cent ad valorem on Wagner's Tannhäuser would be hard to levy. Sixty per cent on Casanova's Bathers is hardly artistic. But the big chimney of the Art Institute smokes an usual deep in Grant park. Though the locomotives of the I. C. R. R. may be electrified, as a writer in the Christian Century says, art smokes on. Perhaps the Art Institute can be electrified too.

PROGRESS AT BOULDER DAM.

Desolate wastes in the area of Lower Boulder canyon are bringing fancy prices and desert tracts eighty miles from the scene of the 165 million dollar Boulder dam project are listed for the sucker. Land promoters are pyramiding prices for their sand lots and the ground floor boys are discounting values years in advance. The Boulder dam boom is on.

Now that the Boulder dam bill has been passed, those who have promoted the project as a government power enterprise are maneuvering to accomplish their plans. President Coolidge was anxious to avoid building and operating a power plant at Boulder dam at government expense, and hoped for a satisfactory lease to private interests. Thus far the private power companies have shown no great interest in the Boulder dam rights. Recent figures, indeed, suggest that private companies have virtually ceased extending their hydro-electric properties and, instead, are building steam plants to meet their growing requirements. If so, there is reason to believe that the power generators at Boulder dam, if built at all, will be government built, and may prove to be another white elephant.

The apprehensions of those who opposed the Boulder dam project are being realized. Mad speculation in land has begun, and it may shame the Florida boom before it comes to a disgraceful end. The government is proceeding blindly with a tremendous undertaking, the real purposes of which have been obscured, and which will not be exposed fully until millions are spent. Interstate jealousies and suspicions are bitter, and a Mexican problem has been created. And farmers of productive soil are to be taxed to equip competitors. By comparison Muscle Shoals appears a modest and respectable undertaking.

WATCHING THE WORLD FROM LONDON.

An Editorial of the Day we reprint the claim of the Morning Post that London is the central news distributing city of the world. If it is added that dispatches from London are frequently unreliable the statement is correct.

British journalism is obligated to perpetuate British institutions and British ideas. This is done at home by editing the news for the consumption of the "lower classes." For the protection of the aristocracy the news of many events must be presented with the proper emphasis and explanation. It must pass the test of class domination at home and of British imperialism abroad.

The Tribune has had experience with London as a news source. The standards of the British agencies, in the main, were inferior to the standards of American journalism in the mere process of collecting information and writing it clearly. Furthermore, the editorial bias in stories in which British interest was involved was evident.

Convinced that we could not give our readers the truth if we had to rely on British sources, The Tribune established its own foreign news service. This Tribune's claim to preeminence among the world's newspapers is founded in large part upon the fact that it is independent of any influence in the gathering of its news.

THE ART INSTITUTE OF CHICAGO CIVIC REPERTORY COMPANY.

The Goodman players have become the Art Institute of Chicago Civic Repertory company, and the world gets civic and civic. With a new name in seven acts the little company cast of Adams street will have something to live up to, it is not to live down. Its dramatic vitality, already not too high, will be soiled by such a burden.

Why the long and deadly names, that poets and realtors, artists and advertisers are learning to avoid, must be attached to efforts such as this is not clear. On those who see the shows from duty it may have a compulsory effect, but if they go for pleasure they will be unable to get by a name like the Art Institute of Chicago Civic Repertory company.

The Goodman players was good enough as names go. The Art Institute of Chicago Civic Repertory company would do better as an oculist's chart for eyes.

Editorial of the Day

COTNEY GARDEN OF NEWS.

The interesting fact that London has achieved, and is likely long to retain, the leading position as a news center is perhaps not generally realized by those Londoners who hastily scan the headlines of their favorite journal and then cast it aside as "read." The public have little conception of the working of the immense organizations which have been slowly built up to supply one of the most essential commodities of the modern world—news.

The chief editor of Reuters' agency, in an address yesterday to the British section of the International Association of Journalists, described how London had become the Covent Garden of the world's news. Her position, he said, was unassailable, both as a collector of news and as a distributor of the commodity. The remarkable advance made in rapid transit of news, combined with the ever growing reputation of London for assembling and editing and resending information without adulterating it, had resulted in London taking the position of the greatest news clearing house the world had ever seen. More distance in space was now negligible. The time taken for the result of the test match at Adelaide to reach the news headquarters in London was shorter than that taken for the result of the test match at the oval. That is just one example of the extraordinary mechanism by which the whole world is kept informed of what is going on—through London.

Washington Post allows that a party of congressmen, returning from Panama, are permitted to bring their baggage in, free of customs duty, and will now hustle down to Washington and frame up some more tariff schedule for other people to pay.

South. Now the matter has been brought up. Brother Art Henning remembers that congressmen, other officials of our lovely bureaucracy, and, they claim, all friends of Republican national committees, have for years been given cards allowing them to bring into these dry and tariff-walled States anything their little hearts desired—including enormous quantities of liquor and all sorts of foreign goods free of duty.

However, we wish to deny the rumor that, swayed by the possibility of such delectable privileges, we have abandoned the principles of Jeffersonian Democracy. We wish emphatically to deny that we were hurt in the rush yesterday to become a "friend of Republican National Committees." No sir, though we have to pay 50% or even 90% duties on our London tweeds and Canary Island hankies, do without good liquor, and have our stuff mangled all over the docks anyway, we're standing pat. We hold these truths to be self-evident: That all men are created equal. . . .

Or Even Just a Piece of One.

Reb! At Harvard they're organizing an institute to put criminals under observation for scientific study. Out here in Illinois we'll be satisfied if we can just catch one or two and sit on 'em awhile.

A HYMN OF HATE FROM HAITI.

BY ERNEST BYFIELD.

(SPECIAL CHIEF CORRESPONDENT OF THE LINE.)

I never even saw the citadel in Haiti. I was just a Marco Polo who didn't get there. The moment we landed at the Port-au-Prince flying field I went over to the marine corps headquarters and was received very courteously. The planes were all up that day, but they would fly me over to Cape Haitien on Thursday.

I thought of the American hotel, with its quartered clock plumbing and the feeble trickle that was not a shower, and refused. I am a poor explorer. Nobody can ever say Dick Byrd turned me down. Take me away from Wedgwood fixtures and I am miserable.

But the trip to Port-au-Prince was worth the bumping in the Fokker. I'm going back next year and try to be a Black Emperor. The town is incredibly comic. Huge blacks, male and female, move down the streets at an elevation of about two feet, banked on either side with palmiers of sugar cane and other native produce. The whole thing seems like an optical illusion, done with the aid of mirrors. If you are a Pinkerton you will discover tiny burros, about the size of police dogs, propelling the entire native population. If you don't watch closely, you will go back to four hotel and forewarn drinking.

White men told me at Port-au-Prince that if the question of Mr. Seabrook's return to the Maple Island ever is balanced upon the result will look like a tin of caviar. According to my informants, it seems that he forsook the fields of literature to enter those of invention. And if he ever does come back there will be an elaborate ceremony held over him that will be well worthy of another book, but it will be written by another author.

Not Until You Can Spell Utilize.

Sir: Please inform me what the qualifications, if any, are necessary to become a contrib to the Line. At times I have leisure time that I do not know what to do with and I should be pleased to utilize it for the benefit of the strip you edit. Your column would thereby be greatly enhanced in value. I am sure.

IMPROMPTU.

They may there be no caste; and yet,
Although I love you well I dare not show
The kindness I might give to meetest friend
And scarce the courtesy that's due a foe:
My own position is so fast best
By the proprieties which hedge a rank
However mean, that it belies the frank
Denial of restraining futile hands.
So must our new-born understanding end,
As ships which pass in a blue bay at night
Are lost to each in deeper blue where light
Becomes the clutch of aching, empty hands.

Lagniappe.

TODAY is the runoff alternate election in Chicago. Funny name that—runoff. But what we were going to say is that we wish lots of aldermen were heard of would run as far off they never come back. Ain't we the mean old thing!

PURELY for the sake of calling our attention to our attention caller calls our attention to the fact that the Special Farm Relief Session promised by Mr. Hoover and scheduled for April 15 will take up, according to reports, Prohibition, the National Origins Act, the Federal Reserve Board, the Stock Market, the World Court, Reapportionment, the Tariff, Naval Armament, Muscle Shoals, the Nicaragua Canal, the I'm Alone debacle, the Mexican Revolution, Congressmen Michaelson (Rep.), Morgan (Rep.), and De Priest (Rep.), Senator Vane (Rep.), conservation of National Resources, the League of Nations, Secretary Mellon, and, 'tis rumored, Fara Relief.

THEY ROLLED the pretty Easter eggs on the White House lawn yesterday. Eggs come from the country. Not much in the way of farm relief—but something—and, anyhow, it's all that's forthcoming so far.

WELL, the Easter parade was a good deal of a washout, in a manner of speaking, but, anyhow, the Fourth of July ought to be warm and sunny. We're the optimistic sort that always keep right on hoping.

COVERS A WIDE FIELD.

N. Y. M. D. writes: I accidentally discovered that I have not found an instance in which the hiccup did not stop. If the hiccup returns after several minutes it is necessary to cough again. Another spell seldom returns. REPLY: I think the method you are using should be rather wide field. If it has been used by any one else, it has been written about in the books or journals, or has been tagged with the name of any one. I have not heard or read of it. However, some one may depend on it with proof that it was long ago tagged, labeled and perhaps patented.

As you know, hiccup is due to a spasmodic contraction of the diaphragm. The cause generally because of some irritation in the diaphragm or some nearby structure. The irritation may be in the esophagus, stomach or upper part of the small intestine, spleen, in the diaphragm itself, or in the mesentrium, or in the great nerve of the diaphragm, the pneumogastric. In some instances the irritation is in the brain. The impulse to the diaphragm muscle traveling by way of the nerve. For instance, hiccup is one symptom of lathargic encephalitis, or sleeping sickness.

The spasmodic disorder is right on the border line of voluntary control. As a rule, we hiccup in spite of our effort of will to prevent. Yet the impulse is so nearly the will level that mental power can control some cases. In some cases the will to stop, cures. In the same case belong the various attention-arresting procedures, such as holding the tip of the two fingers together, or just short of touching. Your method comes in here.

In coughing there is a violent muscular contraction of the diaphragm. When you have your hiccupping patients cough they upset the periodicity of the hiccup.

CITY'S AIRPORT
IS UNDER WATER;
PROTESTS FLYBlame Council's Failure to Improve Field.

BY ROBERT WOOD.

The Municipal airport was half under water yesterday and officials of the transport companies, who were forced to wade through six feet of water and climb through windows to their offices, were heaping criticism on the city council for its failure to make adequate appropriation for the drainage of the terminal.

Monday's downpour backed up in the sewers and flooded the whole northwest section of the field. Clerks in the government branch postoffice at the field waded about in rubber boots to sort the mail. Water stood from six inches to two feet deep in the field of the airport and in the hangars and offices of the National Air Transport and Boeing Air Transport.

Repair Operations Stopped.
All operations of the repair and overhaul division of the N. A. T. will be suspended for several days, throwing 100 men out of work and threatening the operation of the air mail. Directors towed the mail from the hangars through the water to the center of the field, where the planes were able to take off. The N. A. T. reported a property loss of several thousand dollars.

"This is the third time the field has been flooded, and it will occur again when there are heavy rains," said Dr. Seymour, consulting engineer for the Chicago Aero commission. "Thousands of miles of scheduled flying with valuable cargoes has been threatened because the city has ignored the demands for adequate airport funds."

Criticizes City Laxity.
Like Topsy, the city airport has been left to "just grow" with little aid from the city, Mr. Seymour stated. "The finance committee of the city council answers our pleas by saying the city has no money, and there it sits, the matter will end," he added. "It is this indifference toward airport needs that will frighten aviation interests away from Chicago."

Wife Seeks to Divorce
Son of John P. Harding
Mrs. Gertrude Harding yesterday filed a bill for divorce in the Superior court against James P. Harding, son of John P. Harding, restaurant owner. Mrs. Harding charges cruelty, and asks the custody of their daughter, Jane, 4 years old. The Hardings were married in September, 1923, and separated on March 9.

AVIATION NOTES

Air travel fares are coming down with the approach of summer flying weather. The Northwest Airways yesterday announced a big cut in passenger fares between Chicago and Minneapolis. Passage one way will be $30, a $15 reduction from the former price. The distance is 400 miles, with stops at Milwaukee, Madison, La Crosse, Minneapolis, and St. Paul. The company also put into effect a round trip rate of $50, with a 30 day stopover privilege. The fare amounts to little more than six cents a mile.

All passenger carrying service out of Chicago was stopped yesterday on account of high winds. No student planes operated during the day for this reason. The mail movements were not affected.

The American Air Transport association yesterday announced the opening of four new air passenger routes which connect most of the principal points of Texas. The lines will operate Fairchild single motored planes from Fort Worth through Dallas, Waco and Austin to San Antonio; from San Antonio to Corpus Christi and Brownsville; from Dallas to El Paso, Waco, Houston, and Galveston.

The first air shipment of live stock will be made out of Chicago today. A yearling bull will be flown in a Universal Air Lines trimotored Ford to Schenck, Tex., for the ground breaking ceremonies of a new condenser. To protect the bull from air "bumps" a padded pen will be constructed in the plane.

A flying survey between Seattle and southeastern Alaska is being made by the Boeing Air Transport preliminary to the establishment of regular passenger service between Seattle and an undetermined point in Alaska. It was announced here yesterday. Six Boeing seaplanes will be employed on the 800 mile route, which can be flown between dawn and dusk, according to officials of the company.

Washington, D. C., April 1.—(Special.)—Schedules for a proposed two day transcontinental air-rail passenger service between New York and Los Angeles were submitted to the aeronautics branch of the department of commerce today by the Transcontinental Air Transport, Inc.

According to the schedules, the west bound journey will be made in 51 hours and 51 minutes while the east bound route will be traversed in 46 hours and 18 minutes.

Passengers leaving New York for Los Angeles will depart on a Pennsylvania railroad train at 5:05 p. m., eastern time, and reach Los Angeles by plane at 5:57 p. m. Pacific time, the second day.

Blended especially to achieve richer, mellow
FLAVOR

YEARS ago a fine hotel in the Old South became famous for its superlative coffee. Travelers from all parts of the United States praised the marvelous food at the old Maxwell House and, in particular, the rich, mellow flavor of Maxwell House Coffee.

Southerners themselves boasted of it. They said no single coffee grown could taste quite so delicious. And they were right.

For the flavor of Maxwell House is a blend of many different coffee flavors, each selected for a special excellence. A Southern gentleman—an expert in coffee with a talent for flavor—first worked out this choice blend, which ever since has appealed unflinchingly to other men and women who know good food.

He was familiar with all the finest kinds and grades of coffee grown. He spent years of patient, skillful labor combining, testing, rejecting, re-combining the "winny," heady coffees of Arabia, the "mild" coffees of Java, the "syrupy," pungent coffees of Brazil. At last his persistence was rewarded with an entirely new coffee flavor—a blend, smooth, rich, mellow, full-bodied, yet full of life and sparkle.

"The Old Colonel," as he is known to his friends, has lived to see this coffee he perfected in his youth become the favorite throughout the whole United States—pleasing more people than any other coffee ever offered for sale.

North, South, East and West—Maxwell House is accepted today as the fine coffee served in America's foremost homes—preferred by America's most famous hostesses.

Let your own family and your friends enjoy this delicious coffee at your own table. Wherever you are, your grocer has Maxwell House Coffee—sealed in tin to preserve to the last spoonful all its delicious fragrance and flavor.

Out Today! The April

Marfields

Why the Marfield questionnaire? Because so much interest has centered around these successful fashions that these questions are continually being asked us about them.

Are Marfields exclusive with Field's?

Certainly! Their designs are selected from eminently successful fashions and made to our own specifications.

Would they be termed special values?

Special indeed! The most outstanding value of the month in every Section in which they appear.

Do they appear in all the apparel Sections?

With the exception of four... There are:
Women's and Misses' Coats • Women's and Misses' Ensembles
Junior and Petite Miss Apparel • Women's and Misses' Dresses
Women's and Misses' Sports Apparel

What about the Marfield Hat?

The MARFIELD Hat was launched soon after the apparel fashions last fall and coincides in every detail of style and value with the MARFIELD Apparel.

Are Marfields always moderate in price?

Extremely so for the merit of their style and quality... and always within the range of the moderate budget.

Are they on sale at the Evanston Store?

Yes, indeed—every model may be found there in a complete range of sizes and colors.

STUDENT GOES TO CELL FOR LIFE TO SAVE CHUM

Pleads Guilty So Friend
Can Escape Noose.

Atlanta, Ga., April 1.—The state today permitted George H. Marsh of Milwaukee and Richard G. Gallogly of Atlanta, wealthy former-Oglethorpe university students, to plead guilty to the murder of two men in attempted hangings here last fall and sentenced each to imprisonment for life.

Marsh, in entering his plea, said he did so to save the life of his friend, Gallogly, although he was convinced no jury would have convicted him.

Marsh Thanks Chum.

The Milwaukee youth acknowledged Gallogly's action in the following statement: "I realize that the action of Dick Gallogly, in pleading guilty and taking a life sentence after two mistrials in his case, was because he wished to save me from the extreme sentence of the law. It was a most magnanimous act, after two mistrials, for him to come to my rescue in this way. Dick is not guilty of any murder. It is a great thing to have a friend who would do what he had done for me."

Gallogly said: "I was glad to take the opportunity to help save the life of George Marsh by pleading guilty and taking a life imprisonment sentence. George Marsh was not responsible for what he did and was under the influence of liquor to such an extent that he did not take my advice to keep out of the drug store. I do not believe I would ever have been convicted of the murder by any jury, but my belief that in taking his imprisonment I am helping to save the life of George Marsh is the cause of my taking this step."

Second Case Dropped.

Marsh and Gallogly had been tried only for the murder of Willard Smith, a drug clerk, who was shot down by Marsh when he attempted to resist a robbery of his store. They faced another indictment charging them with the murder of S. H. Meeks, grocery store proprietor, who was slain in a similar attempt. Both these cases were dropped in today's proceedings.

The four leading cigarette brands "masked" to conceal their brand names

If someone asked you which cigarette your taste likes best, you'd name your "old stand-by," of course. And maybe you'd be right... All tastes are not alike.

But isn't it just possible that it's Old Man Habit who holds you to your favorite brand? Isn't it possible that if you smoked the four leading cigarettes with names concealed, your taste might choose an entirely different brand?

Take the case of the Chicago firemen. Any old-timer in the Department can tell you that for 10 years the "C.F.D." has been known for its devotion to one cigarette. They know their smokes... these "smoke-eaters."

But when two popular Division Fire Marshals, George Graves and Dick Thomasius visited 24 firehouses and conducted the "concealed name" cigarette test, they received the surprise of their lives. 79 out of 166 men picked OLD GOLD as the best. OLD GOLD stepped away from the other 3 brands like a hook and ladder tearing to a "4-11" fire!

Why not make the "concealed name" test yourself and get your own answer as to which is the most appealing cigarette? We'll furnish the brand name "masks," etc., if you'll furnish the cigarettes. There's a convenient coupon right below.

WISCONSIN DRY ACT'S FATE UP TO VOTERS TODAY

Wets Say Repeal Will Jar Volstead Law.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
 (Chicago Tribune Staff Writer.)
 Milwaukee, Wis., April 1.—[Special.]—Wisconsin voters tomorrow on whether it will repeal its "little Volstead act," the Severn state dry enforcement law. Liberals and dries the land over are watching it intently. On the eve of battle both the modificationists and the Anti-Saloon leaguers are claiming victory. The industrial centers and the wet eastern part of the state are pitted against the dry farming regions. It is the first dry referendum held by any state since the passage of the Jones "S and 19" law. Liberals have been streaming the issue of whether the eighteenth amendment has abrogated the commandment, "Thou shalt not kill." This has been accentuated by the killing of Mrs. Lillian De King at Aurora, Ill., by dry gunmen, operating under an Illinois enforcement law similar to that of Wisconsin.

"Hypocrisy" Also Issue.
 Another issue, that of "sham and hypocrisy" by lawmakers who vote dry and drink wet, has been brought into bold relief by the indictment of Congressman M. A. Michelson of Chicago, a "dry," who voted for the Jones act, but whose trunk leaked on his return from Cuba. He faces trial on charges of illegally importing liquor into the United States.

Neither side expects a heavy vote, for, apart from the proposal ballot, there are few local elections of interest to help bring out the voters. Wisconsin is one of the wettest of the states. Three years ago, by a two to one vote, the citizens upheld a memorial to congress asking 2.75 beer, to be sold under government control.

Campaign Is Complicated.
 Unusual political complexities have protruded into the battle. The Republican conservatives who elected Walter Kohler governor last year are keeping out of the fight. Many of them, even those with wet leanings, dispute the idea of a repeal bill being put before Gov. Kohler, who was an ardent Hooverite. They may that for him to sign it might be regarded as a knock at the Hoover policies. As to a veto, well, ex-Gov. Zimmerman voted a beer bill two years ago, and at last election the voters voted Zimmerman.

The La Follette radical group, which contains both wets and dries, has taken no stand, although it had a wet plank last year. Its organ, the Capital Times at Madison, has come out for repeal. Two proposals are on the ballot—one for repeal of state dry enforcement, the second to take 2.75 beer out of the state act.

The campaign has exhibited the anomaly of some wets working hand in glove with the Anti-Saloon league. Assemblyman Wallace Ingalls of Racine, an avowed wet, has been arguing at Madison for the dries.

Wets Follow Dry Strategy.
 The Anti-Saloon league regards it as a crucial election, for the liberals are modelling their tactics on those used by the league years ago in putting over the eighteenth amendment—first lining up the states and with this momentum driving upon congress.

DRYS BEAT MAN, WIFE IN HOME; HAD NO WARRANT

Milwaukee, Wis., April 1.—[Special.]—Entering a home here without a search warrant and under the impression that a still could be found there because of information contained in an anonymous letter, five federal dry agents severely beat a man and his wife, it was charged today when the case was called before United States Commissioner Harry L. Kellogg.

Because the woman, a mother of two children, still is under the care of a physician as the result of her experience with the raiders, the case was postponed for a week. The agents entered the home of Louis Talakowski by a ruse. Requesting the consent of Talakowski to allow them to search his portion of the basement, they were admitted. They found nothing in the co-tenant's section, but claimed they could smell a still in operation on the Talakowski side.

Talakowski defended himself with a pair of pliers, but the dry agents insist he first attacked them. While the agents offered no evidence, because the case was continued, one claimed they had seized a 30 gallon still and 100 gallons of mash. Another said they had found wine in a bar room in the basement.

CARE in DRIVING Reduces Your INSURANCE COSTS

Little Lessons in DRIVING CARE
 One-third of all automobile casualties are caused by careless drivers. Better to stop when coming out of an alley or corner, better to drive slowly past a school zone, than to injure or kill a child.

Claim Adjustments Speeded

No Mutual Liability

Details are FREE

THIS is a message to the thousands of responsible car owners who still pay car insurance rates known as "standard". An offer to relieve you of the cost of protecting the reckless and incompetent, it means flat premium savings of $10 to $35 every year.

Thousands of "preferred policy holders" (careful motorists) benefit by these policies today. They are written by Chicago Lloyds—backed by over $2,500,000 in assets. Their sponsors and guarantors include over 400 men prominent in the financial and business life of Chicago and the middle west.

Besides safety and low cost, policy holders at Chicago Lloyds enjoy two other distinct benefits:

- Fast claim settlement. Policy holders are of known integrity. Thus red tape and investigation time is minimized.
- More equity in adjustments to policy holders. High average character of clientele and elimination of doubtful and incompetent "risks" permits adjustment of claims on a basis highly satisfactory to policy holders.

These cost reductions and service betterments result directly from "preferred risk" underwriting. Your coverage is standard with the best written by other reliable companies. There is no mutual or reciprocal liability to you. Your policy is written on the Valued Form.

Upon receipt of non-obligating coupon printed below, Chicago Lloyds will prepare an estimate for whatever insurance you desire on your own car. With this will be sent you a complimentary copy of "The Careful Driver's Handbook", a valuable book containing hints on avoiding theft, legal safeguards in case of accident and pertinent excerpts from the motoring law. Mail coupon direct to the Home Office.

GIANTS THIS YEAR
NO BETTER THAN
N1928 CAMPAIGNLack Old Time Speed and Regular Pitching.

(Chicago Tribune From Service.)
Shreveport, La., April 1.—In view of the fashion in which the Giants concluded last season's race it is being broadcasted somewhat extensively that they are sure bets for the impending National league struggle. This would be important if true, but just now it is more important to consider that the race doesn't end until next October, and that no-called great McGraw will have to go through it with a team no stronger in the aggregate than his squad of 1928, but, at the worst, they'll be close.

After a month of conditioning and harrastment about the southland McGraw has determined upon two changes in the regular layout of a year ago, and has discovered no youthful sensations, although some may perpetrate. One of the alterations involves Fred Leach, the ex-Phillie, who is going to play left field. The other concerns Andy Reese, who is going to confine himself to second base behind the criminal's record. McGraw has come up to expectations last year.

Maya, Scott Veterans.
If McGraw is to make good on the predictions made for him he will have to uncover at least one man capable of taking a regular turn on the mound. He has quite a layout of talent now touring the south, and this need item may bloom. However, the need of this one man is based on the expectation that Benton, Fitzsimmons and Genesick will be pitching as they did last season. The Yankees won 59 games. Benton probably won't win 25 as he did in 1928, but any decline on his part is expected to be offset by improvement on the part of Genesick, who wasn't called in from the Boston Braves until after many weeks of last year's race had elapsed.

For possibilities to add to the above three, McGraw has a string of talent longer than a criminal's record. There's Carl Hubbell, Carl Mays, Frank Henry, Warren Ogen, John Scott, and Bill Walker among them. Maya and Scott can be disposed of as outliners who may season and then again may not. They certainly will not be able to operate every fourth day.

The one well liked by the close observers is Hubbell, who threw right handed. He was up for a short time last year, having been purchased from Beaumont, Tex., and showed skill enough to warrant serious consideration.

Kelly Makes Impression.
Walker and Henry also are left handed and there were times last season when they gave indications of owning a lion's heart, but you never can judge a southpaw far in advance. Of the newcomers, a left handed Harry Kelly has made the most decided impression to date. He was purchased from Memphis, where his record was 21 victories and 16 losses. He is the shortest member of the entire staff and hardly comes to the rating of what a Giant actually should be. But maybe McGraw can overlook such a detail if the fellow can pitch.

The outfield of the great "Muggsy" is to be Leach, Welsh, and Ott, from left to right, and it will be a fly chasing trio with a bit more skill than the haphazard arrangement of last year. Leach was the best outfielder the Phillies owned. Both Welsh and Ott have been around long enough to be known. They can field and their hitting is by no means negligible. This outfield gives McGraw three left handed batters, but they throw right handed.

Kaufmann in Utility Role.
Of the possibilities for outfield utility jobs, the best is Tony Kaufmann, the onetime Cub pitcher, who slapped the ball for 344 in the International league last season. McGraw will make no mistake if he retains this one. Old Ed Roush also is about the premises, but he has gone over the hill and can't be counted upon for much. The club also has Art Weisman, a flashy fellow, who had a tryout with the White Sox several years ago. Weisman probably will wind up with Toledo, the Giants' farm.

No comment is necessary on the Giant infield. Terry, Reese, Jackson, and Lindstrom will field and hit well enough for any team. It is the strongest unit of the entire layout, especially at short and third. Cohen, of course, will remain for utility and another ind for this same sort of work will have to be found among the candidates available. The best, on average, seems to be Crawford and Baxter, both recalled from Toledo.

In the way of catchers the Giants have Truck Hogan, who did fairly well last season. He is mechanical behind the bat but his long flies and in the Giants small field such things count. Bob O'Farrell and John Cummings probably will be understudy men for the job with the veteran Ray Schalk assisting occasionally. If McGraw was looking for slow men, he certainly found them for his catching department. Other members of the team also lack the speed that McGraw once thought was so important.

HOPPE TRAILS HALL, 100-96, IN 3 CUSHION PLAY
New York, April 1.—(Special.)—Willie Hoppe, former world's 18.3 billiard champion, essaying again to show his skill as a three cushion player, opened his match against Allen Hall, the young western wizard at the three cushion game, at the Strand billiard academy today.

Hoppe came off with an even break in the two blocks played but four points behind his opponent in points scored. He won the afternoon block, 50 to 44, but Hall triumphed in the evening session, 54 to 44.

Hendricks Refuses to Allow Reds to Play Macon Game
Macon, Ga., April 1.—(U. P.)—Jack Hendricks, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, canceled today's exhibition game with the Macon club of the Sally league because he thought the ball park, under construction here, was not a safe place in which to let a major league club perform.

Robins Topple
Before Boston
Attack, 3 to 1

Miami, Fla., April 1.—(U. P.)—The Braves defeated the Robins by 3 to 1 in an exhibition game here today. George Slater got a home run in the eighth off Doug McWeeny. Bill Clark gave the Braves only six hits in seven innings. The score: Robins.....000 000 010-3 2 1 Boston.....000 100 002-1 7 1

YANKS BEAT MOBILE.
Mobile, Ala., April 1.—(U. P.)—The Yankees skinned through to win by 3 to 1 from the Mobile Bears of the Southern association here today as 6,000 southern fans took a half holiday to see Babe Ruth and the champions. Clabough hit a homer for the only Mobile run. The Yanks had trouble with all the Mobile hurlers. The score: New York.....002 000 100-3 7 0 Mobile.....000 100 000-1 7 1

PHILLIES CRUSH COLUMBUS.
Lakeland, Fla., April 1.—(U. P.)—The Philadelphia Nationals today crushed Columbus, American association, 13 to 1. Hurst and Thevenow, each hit a home run with one man on base. Double plays killed off several Columbus rallies. The score: Philadelphia.....110 702 020-13 16 0 Columbus.....000 100 000-1 7 1

RED SOX, 14; BUFFALO, 6.
Bradenton, Fla., April 1.—(U. P.)—Thirty-one hits, including four homers, were hammered out here today as the Boston Red Sox clubbed their way to a 14 to 6 victory over the Buffalo Internationals. Boston got 18 of the safeties.

GIANTS STOP SHREVEPORT.
Shreveport, La., April 1.—(U. P.)—The New York Giants found the range in the fourth, and the fifth for a total of two runs which enabled them to beat Shreveport of the Texas league, 5 to 2. Carl Mays did well after an uneasy first inning. Harry Kelly finished for the Giants.

CARDINALS COME THROUGH.
St. Augustine, Fla., April 1.—(U. P.)—Making the most of their few scoring opportunities, the St. Louis Cardinals

Court Writs and Rain, but Pyle's Army Marches On

of the morning sun, the caravan soon encountered rain. The unfortunate bunions, running in all the known types and lines of male lingerie, were drenched and the ladies of the entertainment climbed down off the sun deck of the yacht, pulling their coats about them.

Presently the rain ceased, the sun came out and a strong, hot wind began to blow dust clouds across the road. The runners dried out as they plodded along through the mean towns of the suburban murder district and all was rolling smoothly when one of the baggage wagons, containing the main top in which the debutantes will do their dancing, subject to local ordinances, rolled on its side in a field. Mr. Pyle was greatly upset, but Mr. Steven Owen, the professional football player who is entering his second season as the Ned Wayburn of the theatrical department of the C. C. Pyle enterprises, lost none of his poise.

"Every body out," Mr. Owen cried heartily, halting the caravan. "Get those damn newspapermen out, too, and everybody give a hoist." So in half an hour, with Mr. Owen underneath the chassis of the truck and shoving upward, as in a professional football game, the truck was heaved back onto the right of way and the train moved on toward Trenton and tribulations beyond Mr. Pyle's direct expectations.

As Mr. Pyle rolled through Trenton, today defeated the Newark Internationals, 3 to 1. Bill Sherdel and Hal Hald divided the pitching burden for St. Louis and did a good job of it. The minor leaguers gathered only eight scattered hits.

Maj. Griffith
Will Referee
Kansas Relays

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.
Maj. John L. Griffith, athletic commissioner of the Western conference, has been named referee of the seventh annual Kansas relays, to be held in the Memorial stadium at Lawrence April 20.

The move by a group of faculty members to increase eligibility requirements for University of Wisconsin athletes, was defeated after an exciting meeting of the faculty today. The Badgers will continue to operate under the present rule, which stipulates that the men must make an average of 3 of a grade point per credit, in order to make eligible period.

The minority element in the faculty sought to raise it an even grade point per credit. Grade points are given for all marks of 77 and above. The present rule makes it possible for an athlete to fall slightly below figure 77 in one subject and still remain eligible.

Army Enters Drake Relays.
Dr. F. C. Allen, director of athletics at the University of Kansas, has mailed circular letters to coaches of university, college and high school teams enumerating the relays and their distances. Leading athletes of the Western conference, Big Six, Missouri Valley, Southwestern conference, not to mention the smaller schools in the Mississippi and Missouri valley districts, will compete.

Officials of the Drake relays at Des Moines are enthusiastic over the event received from the United States Military academy at West Point. Leo Novak, track and field coach at the Army, will be remembered as the coach who developed the strong Cedar Rapids, Ia., High school relay team which ran away with races at the Drake relays, University of Chicago and Northwestern intercollegiate a few years ago.

Ohio Meet May 3 and 4.
Coaches of Big Ten teams, as usual, will split their squads to have representatives at the Penn and Drake carnivals, held on the same days. The Ohio State relays will be held at Columbus, O., May 3 and 4. Athletes now are pointing for this series of relay meets.

St. Mel Wins 30th in Row; Beats Minneapolis Quintet
The St. Mel, Chicago parochial school champion, defeated the La Salle team of Minneapolis, 30 to 20, at basketball tonight. It was the thirtieth consecutive victory for the St. Mel.

DUTCH MASTERS

REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

SMOKE TALKS

by the DUTCH MASTERS

We hope that the pleasure you experience from the first Dutch Masters you smoke will not be dimmed by the thought of all the real smoke satisfaction you have been missing all these years.

Those little, unconsidered things
That make our lives worth while!
The joy a fine spring morning brings,
Some old friend's cheery smile,
An evening by your warm hearth spent,
With day-cares banished far
By that untroubled, deep content
You draw from your cigar.

A gentleman who signs himself "D. L. R." contributes this bouquet: "The first time I tried a Dutch Masters I thought the dealer had gotten the price tags mixed. But after repeated attempts I was finally convinced that you really could buy a fine cigar for a dime."

The man, who wishes to know the deepest satisfaction and contentment that tobacco has to offer, should cultivate his taste for a good cigar.

MAIL ORDER CO.
SALES REVEAL
SPRING IS HERESeasonal Trade Is Higher Than Ever.

BY O. A. MATHER.

Spring trade has started off at a pace seldom, if ever, recorded and there are prospects that the second quarter of this year will do better than a year ago and may even outstrip the early part of 1928. This evidence is set forth in various reports and forecasts appearing yesterday.

Chicago's two big mail order houses reported record sales for any March. Sears, Roebuck & Co.'s sales last month were $30,795,309, a gain of $6,819,637, or 22.4 per cent over March, last year. Sales for the three months this year totaled $87,809,000, an increase of $16,741,135, or 21.8 per cent over the same period last year.

Montgomery Ward & Co.'s sales last month were $21,816,668, a gain of $4,115,773, or 27.05 per cent over March, last year, and making the eleventh consecutive month to show an increase over the same month of the preceding year. Sales for three months totaled $65,400,774, a gain of $13,824,273, or 20.55 per cent over the same period in 1928.

The federal reserve board reported that department stores sales declined from January to February in considerably less than the usual seasonal amount. After allowance is made for the fact that February this year contained one less business day than a year ago, sales showed an increase of four per cent. Chain stores, except cigar chains, and mail order houses made substantially larger sales than in February last year. These increases partly reflected the establishment of additional stores during 1928.

The department of commerce reported that American exports for the first two months of this year set a new high record in volume, although their value of $216,000,000 has been exceeded. Imports showed a slight increase.

"While the money value of exports has been exceeded in years just after the war with Germany," Secretary Robert P. Lamont said, "the quantities of goods moving in the present year are immensely greater, as the fall is prices following the war has been great. Another point in the new

SIX FIRMS DECLARE
INITIAL, INCREASED AND EXTRA DIVIDENDS

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

New York, April 1.—Three increases in dividends, two initial dividends and an extra dividend were among the corporate disbursements announced today.

The Miami Copper company declared a quarterly dividend of $1. against 50 cents paid in the previous quarter. The Massachusetts Gas company declared a quarterly dividend of $1.50, a 50 per cent increase over a previous basis of $1. Grand Rapids Metalcraft declared a quarterly dividend of 25 cents, against 12½ cents previously paid.

The Incorporated Investors have declared a stock dividend of 50 per cent. Union Planters' Bank and Trust company and Manhattan Savings bank of Memphis declared an annual dividend of 12 per cent payable monthly, and also a stock dividend to be paid at the rate of 4 to 6 per cent, depending on earnings. The Lawton Mills corporation omitted the quarterly payment of $1.50 due at this time.

The Cleveland Stone company declared an extra dividend of $10. Foltz-Fisher, Inc., declared an initial of $1.50 quarterly. Consolidated Paper Box company declared an initial of 25 cents on class B stock.

record is that now manufactured goods are continuously showing up as a greater proportion of the whole.

The automotive industry particularly has registered increases.

Fewer Failures This Year.

The prosperous condition of business also is shown in a report on commercial failures for the first quarter of this year compiled by R. G. Dun & Co. The showing was the best since 1926. Failures totaled 6,487, compared with 7,055 and 6,643 respectively in the first quarter of 1928 and 1927. Liabilities totaled $124,268,608, compared with $147,519,198 and $106,121,883 in the preceding two years.

Unusually active trade during the next three months is predicted by the merchants of the country through estimates of the shippers' regional advisory boards. These boards estimate that carload shipments of the twenty-nine principal commodities will be approximately $3,836,714, an increase of $12,844 cars, or 7½ per cent, over the figures for the second quarter of last year. Twelve of the thirteen regional boards anticipate larger transportation requirements, with the mid-west leading with a predicted increase of 17½ per cent. Only the southeast region anticipates a decrease.

MERGER MAKES
NATIONAL CITY
LARGEST BANKAbsorbs Trust Co. in Big Deal.

New York, April 1.—[Special.]—Charles E. Mitchell, head of the National City bank, today played a new card in the race for supremacy among New York banks when he announced that his institution had absorbed the Farmers Loan and Trust company. The combined institutions will have resources of considerably over two billion dollars.

Stock of the Farmers Loan and Trust company immediately jumped 300 points to $1,850 a share.

Thus the National City bank once more leaps to first place in this country and becomes possibly in capital structure the largest bank in the world. First place had been held for a few months by the new institution formed by the merger of the Guaranty Trust company and the National Bank of Commerce, with resources of approximately $2,000,000,000. Prior to that the National City bank had been the undisputed leader for half a century.

Rotating Board Planned.

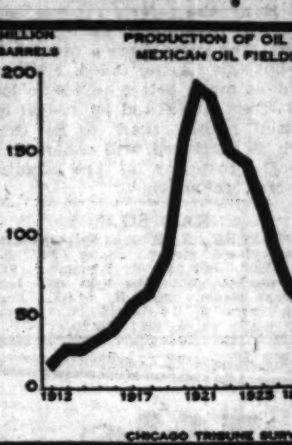

The merger announcement was made jointly by Mr. Mitchell and James H. Perkins, president of the Farmers Loan and Trust company.

An unusual feature of the merger is that after the consolidation is effected the National City bank will have a revolving executive committee composed of nine members, five of them permanent. The permanent members will be Charles E. Mitchell, J. H. Perkins, Gordon S. Rentschler, Hugh Baker, and John A. Garver, the bank's counsel. Directors of the National City bank, the National City company, and the Farmers' Trust company will rotate as the other four members.

The name of the trust company probably will be changed to "City Bank Farmers' Trust company." It will devote itself entirely to the administration of trusts and will take over the trust business of the National City bank. Commercial banking business of the trust company will be taken over by the bank.

Mitchell Heads Both Banks.

Mr. Mitchell will become chairman of the trust company and the bank, and Mr. Perkins will continue as president of the trust company and will become a director of the bank.

Mr. Rentschler, assistant to Mr. Mitchell, will become president of the National City bank. Hugh Baker will become president of the National City company.

B. & O. OFFICIALS
TELL THEIR SIDE TO HOOSIER GOV.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Indianapolis, Ind., April 1.—Officials of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, advocating merger with the Chicago, Indianapolis and Louisville (Monon), today presented their side of the story in a conference with Gov. Harry Leslie.

Monon officials have already explained their viewpoint to Leslie. They wish to continue the present arrangement with Louisville and Nashville and the Southern. Ninety-six per cent of Monon stockholders, represented at the annual meeting a few days ago, voted unanimously against the merger. The Baltimore and Ohio declares the merger would simplify present national railway lineups, but the Monon has won over the state public service commission.

Asks Permit to Lay 150
Miles of Pipe Line in Ill.

Springfield, Ill., April 1.—(P)—Permit to lay approximately 150 miles of eight inch pipe line in twelve counties was asked of the Illinois commerce commission today by the Texas Empire Pipe Line company. Thirty-eight miles of the line would be laid northeast from a point on the north line of Livingston county through Grundy, Kankakee, and Will counties, and 108 miles of it would be laid northwest through Crawford, Jasper, Cumberland, Coles, Douglas, McArthur, Piatt, De Witt, and McLean counties.

Automobile Output Scales
New Heights During March

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

New York, April 1.—Automobile production soared to new heights during March, several of the largest manufacturers reporting the greatest output ever attained by them in a single month, while in some other instances the capacity production schedules previously inaugurated were maintained.

Production of Ford cars and trucks during March totaled 181,894 units, compared with 159,011 for February this year. These figures include domestic and foreign production. Aggregate production of new model Ford cars and trucks to the end of March totaled 1,859,353 units, of which 1,121,326 were produced for the domestic trade, 126,460 for export, and 110,067 by the Canadian Ford company.

Chevrolet Production.

The Chevrolet Motor company, the largest unit in the General Motors system, broke all monthly production records during March, with an output of 147,374 cars and trucks. This compares with production of 121,240 units in February, 1929, and 121,657 units in March last year. In May, 1928, output was 140,775 cars and trucks.

March shipments of 44,295 cars by the Hudson Motor Car company were the largest ever made in a single month, the figure comparing with 35,780 cars shipped in March last year. Buick Motor company produced 15,206 cars in March, compared with 15,000 in February, and 20,011 in March last year. Combined shipments of Cadillac and La Salle cars by the Cadillac Motor car division of General Motors totaled 4,000 units during March.

Reo Shipments.

The Reo Motor Car company shipped 4,611 cars and trucks in March, compared with 3,250 in February, and 3,529 in March, 1928.

March shipments by the Hupp Motor Car corporation totaled 4,216 units, compared with 4,181 units in February, and 5,034 in March, last year. Production of Marmon and Roosevelt cars at present is approximately 250 units daily.

HARTMAN CORP.
CHAIN SWELLS
TO 50 STORES

The Hartman corporation, which embarked in the chain store field last year, will have fifty stores in operation by July 1, according to President Martin L. Straus, who made public the annual report yesterday. The expansion has been carried on without any new financing.

Net earnings for last year were $985,930, equivalent after dividends on the class A stock to $2.06 a share on the 397,237 class B shares. This compares with net earnings of $1,012,244, or $2.26 a share in 1927. The balance sheet as of Dec. 31, 1928, shows current assets of $19,022,087, current liabilities of $5,774,346, surplus of $3,516,219, and total assets of $27,127,654.

Board of Trade Adopts
Security Trading Rules

Board of Trade members voted in favor of the rules governing trading in securities yesterday, the vote standing 782 in favor and 87 against. The rules are practically the same as those of the New York Stock exchange. Some changes were suggested in grain rules. Members supported the officials in their efforts to expedite preparation for trading in securities as soon as arrangements can be completed.

UNIT SYSTEM OF STOCK SALES
GROWS POPULARCombines Common,
Preferred Issues.

BY SCRUTATOR.

A large proportion of the securities sold nowadays go to the public in the form of units. The usual offer is a share of preferred and a share of common at a stated price for the combination. Sometimes the procedure is varied by the additional right to purchase a share of common at an agreed price before a date of expiration.

Bonds are marketed in a similar manner. They are made convertible into stock at the option of the purchaser, or carry warrants entitling him to participate in junior equities in some manner. How extensive this practice has become is shown in a tabulation by Lawrence Stern & Co. Their statisticians find that in March 73 per cent of the corporate and foreign issues offered in the United States carried such provisions.

There is an apparent lack of interest, even after the severe month-end crash in stock prices, in straight bond financing and in new preferred issues. The investing class which hopes for maximum safety and purchases with that end in view desires a chance also to share in the enhancement of common stocks.

Cities Typical Offer.

As typical of the unit system of sales, an offer by an investment company holding the stocks of concerns in the Pittsburgh area may be cited. Their unit consisted of one share of $6 cumulative preferred stock, one-half share of common, and a warrant entitling the holder to purchase a share of common stock at $30 a share prior to Feb. 1, 1934. The price of the unit was $110.

The letter in which the offering was described stated that the common was now selling at $35 a share. This would make the half share worth $17.50 and the right worth $5, reducing the preferred price to an actual $87.50.

In one day recently three advertisements appearing in THE TRIBUNE had similar features. A chain grocery con-

Scientific Diversification of Security Investments

Is the Foundation

Upon Which Successful Investment Trusts Are Based

Scientific diversification of investments involves not only a sound distribution of holdings among different types of credit such as civil obligations, railroad, public utility and industrial securities, both domestic and foreign, but it also involves a sound division of funds among stocks, bonds, commercial paper, call loans, etc., and a transfer of investments from one type to another with changes in financial and economic conditions.

Scientific diversification of security investments can be more surely and profitably accomplished by a well managed investment trust than by an individual investor.

FORMER REALTY BOARD HEADS OPPOSE MERGER

Lawyers on Each Side Call It Illegal.

BY AL CHASE.

Eleven former presidents of the Chicago Real Estate board, and thirty-six members of that organization have mailed a statement to the 2,500 active and associate members of the board declaring that the proposed merger with the Cook County Real Estate board would be illegal. The eleven former heads of the board are: Callistus S. Ennis, Joseph K. Brittain, John R. Magill, Harry Goldstein, Paul Steinbrecher, Valentine H. Surghner, John P. Hines, Perkins B. Bass, George H. Taylor, Frederick S. Oliver and John P. Wallace.

The forty-seven members who signed the statement sent to their 2,500 fellow members announce that the advice of independent counsel was secured.

Based upon the advice received from the counsel consulted it becomes unnecessary to discuss the merits or demerits of the proposition, or the advisability or inadvisability of a consolidation, because of the legal obstacles that meet us at the very threshold," the statement reads.

Calls It Contingent to Law.

"We are advised that Illinois corporations have no greater powers or prerogatives than are conferred upon them by the statutes of the state of Illinois. There seems to be no provision in the statute permitting corporations which are organized for non-pecuniary profit to merge or consolidate."

"Inasmuch as both the Chicago Real Estate board and the Cook County Real Estate board are not corporations organized for pecuniary profit, it follows that they may not consolidate or merge and that any attempted consolidation would be wholly void and nugatory. Consequently the undersigned active members of the Chicago Real Estate board are opposed to the proposed plan of consolidation because it would be contrary to law."

A somewhat similar decision has been rendered by Enoch J. Price, especially appointed attorney, in an opinion on amalgamation presented at a members' meeting of the Cook County Real Estate board. He also calls a merger illegal.

Two Statements Favor Merger. "My study of the law leads me to the conclusion that an orderly and satisfactory process of consolidation can be devised except with the help of an amendment to the corporation act by the general assembly," said Mr. Price.

A third bit of campaign literature, signed by thirty-nine members of both boards, has been sent out urging the

CHICAGO BANK NEWS

In reporting deposits of the Philip State Bank and Trust company in the bank call table published last Saturday an error was made in the figures for Dec. 31, 1928. These should have been $4,567,000, instead of $5,567,000. Therefore, compared with deposits of $4,475,000 on March 27, the decline in deposits was only $92,000, instead of $1,092,000.

The I-C Bank and Trust company yesterday announced the election of Fred Gardner as vice president. Arthur Kort was appointed vice president and William H. Oellerich was made cashier of the Noel State bank. The Commercial State bank has increased surplus to $100,000 by transferring $50,000 from undivided profits.

THE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

SUMMARY OF ANNUAL REPORT FOR 1928

THE 28TH ANNUAL REPORT of The Pennsylvania Railroad Company, covering operations for the year 1928, will be formally presented to the stockholders at the annual meeting on April 9, 1929. The report shows that although the Company's total operating revenues in 1928 were over $14,000,000 less than in 1927, its net income was over $14,000,000 greater than in 1927. Last year was the fourth successive year in which the net income exceeded that of any previous year.

Net income for the year, amounting to $82,507,613, was equivalent to 14.69% upon the present capital stock outstanding, as compared with 13.65% upon the amount outstanding at the close of 1927.

FINANCE

The Company met its maturing obligations and expended approximately $46,000,000 in 1928 for improvements on its own road and equipment in addition to the expenditure of large sums by its leased and affiliated lines. Work continued during the year on large terminal improvements at Pittsburgh and Philadelphia.

The important items of new equipment placed in service were: 13 freight and passenger locomotives and 523 steel passenger, baggage and express cars. 1,486 improved hopper cars were also acquired, in addition to 104 locomotives and 2,904 freight cars acquired from Leased Companies. The order placed last year was the largest combined order for steel passenger cars ever placed at one time in railroad history. The Company now owns about 20% of all the steel passenger cars in the country. This additional steel passenger equipment makes possible the retirement of the last of the wooden passenger cars from regular steam service.

To pay for additions and improvements, to retire equipment trusts and other obligations and to reimburse the treasury for capital expenditures already made, an allotment of $62,500,000 of capital stock was made to and subscribed by the stockholders during the year at $10 per share in amounts equal to 12 1/2% of their respective holdings. A further allotment of $17,500,000 was made to the employees at $50 per share, as authorized by the stockholders, to be paid for in installments. Subscriptions made by more than 100,000 employees in all departments of the service.

To provide for future requirements, in the interest of improving and expanding the Company's facilities and services, there will be submitted to the stockholders at the annual meeting the question of authorizing the Board of Directors to increase the Company's capital stock by $100,000,000, making the total authorized $700,000,000.

The Company has paid a return to its stockholders in every year since 1847. It is now owned by 154,008 stockholders who reside in every state of the Union and nearly all foreign countries.

The total reduction in funded debt and other fixed obligations during the year was $33,378,984.

OPERATING EFFICIENCY

Steady improvement in operating efficiency ever since the end of the period of Federal control is reflected in the progressive reduction in the ratio of operating expenses to operating revenues. Operating ratio for the lines in the System last year, the eighth successive year in which a reduction, as compared with the previous year, was effected, was the lowest since 1916. Ratios for the last eight years were:

1921...87.6% 1927...78.3%

1922...82.4% 1928...77.5%

1923...81.8% 1927...76.9%

1924...80.2% 1928...75.8%

The factors chiefly responsible for the Company's progress during the year and for its increasing financial success are: Large capital expenditures to improve and expand the railroad's plant and facilities; progressive improvement in operating efficiency and economy; cordial cooperative relations between the management and employees, and the continued patronage of the public whom it has been a pleasure to serve.

PAYMENTS FOR WAGES, TAXES AND MATERIALS

The Pennsylvania Railroad operates directly about 90 per cent of the mileage of its entire system. The remaining lines are controlled through stock ownership. The consolidated system embraces 11,517 miles of road with track mileage of 28,037.

In 1928 the Pennsylvania Railroad System—Paid about $344,000,000 in wages to employees or nearly 49% of all its operating revenues.

—Paid in taxes $41,800,000.

—Paid for fuel, materials, supplies and improvement work almost $200,000,000.

PUBLIC SERVICE

The Pennsylvania Railroad System operates a daily average of about 3,800 passenger trains and 2,900 freight trains. During the year the service performed was equivalent to moving one ton of freight over 45 billion miles and to carry one passenger a distance of 14,344,000 tons of fuel were consumed by locomotives. The maintenance of the property required the installation of 4,046,000 cross ties and 237,000 tons of new heavy steel rail. Over 6,000 miles of track are now laid with 130 pound rail.

COORDINATED RAIL, AIR AND MOTOR SERVICES

During the year the Company began to put into effect its long studied plans for coordinating rail, air and highway services to meet the needs of the public and to develop the company's transportation business. The Company is cooperating with various companies specializing in motor traffic and plans have been worked out for coordinating rail and bus lines in a large part of the territory served by the Company. A service has been inaugurated for less than carload freight through the use of portable steel containers to be carried on either specially equipped railroad cars or motor trucks. Plans are also being rapidly completed by Transcontinental Air Transport, Inc., in the formation of which the Company joined last year, for a combined 48-hour rail-air route to be opened this summer between New York and Pacific Coast cities.

ELECTRIFICATION

The Company has authorized electrification for freight and passenger service of 325 additional miles of line and 1,300 miles of track to be carried out progressively during the next six or seven years at an estimated cost of $100,000,000. This program is planned to meet the future industrial and transportation situation in the East including terminal developments under way or projected. When completed the Company will have 618 miles of line and 2,260 miles of track under electric operation and a completely equipped electric service from Hell Gate Bridge, N. Y., connecting with New England, to Wilmington, Del. and Atglen, Pa., on the Philadelphia Division.

Consider Income

THE recent fluctuations of the stock market have led a good many investors to review their investment policy with respect to common stocks. For the first time perhaps in a good many months they have been willing to face the possibility that stocks could sustain a severe reaction or, at least, halt their advance for some time, in which event an investment in them would be relatively unproductive.

With this possibility in mind, the question arises as to the advisability of selling stocks to purchase bonds. Many investors, however, are unwilling to forsake their position that an investment in equities should prove profitable over a period of years.

The way out of this dilemma lies in the direction of the purchase of dividend-paying stocks yielding satisfactory income return at present prices and having possibilities of appreciation over a period. In selecting such stocks the investor naturally will prefer those companies which give adequate assurance of an ability to maintain the current dividend rate. Such stocks satisfy the dual requirements of good income and reasonable profit possibilities.

We shall be glad to send full details on the following issues with which we have been identified, which afford the yield indicated and which, in our opinion, offer distinct possibilities of appreciation:

Mr. J. G. Sterchi, who will be President of the Company, has furnished us with the following information:

Business: Sterchi Bros. Stores, Inc., has been organized under the laws of Delaware to consolidate 50 stores engaged in the retail and wholesale furniture business. These stores have heretofore operated as independent units under the "Sterchi" name and management. The Company is the outgrowth of a business established by J. G. Sterchi in 1901 and its development to date has been financed entirely out of earnings. The Sterchi Stores are advantageously situated in important cities in the States of Tennessee, Kentucky, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, and Alabama, and enjoy an established reputation. The Sterchi factories, which will be leased and operated by the Company, produce certain staple lines of furniture.

Sales and Earnings: Messrs. Haskins & Sells have certified to the net sales and net earnings of the consolidated business, as shown below, after deduction of Federal taxes at the present rate of 12%, but before deducting interest paid averaging $65,952.52 annually, which should be amply offset by the introduction of this new capital.

Year ended December 31st	Stores	Net Sales	Net Earnings as Above	7% Convertible First Preferred Stock	200,000 shares Common Stock
1924.....	26	$5,115,117	$267,040	$10.65	$4.46
1925.....	37	5,755,913	370,088	14.89	.97
1926.....	37	6,196,586	496,223	19.85	1.60
1927.....	48	6,967,383	621,359	24.85	2.23
1928.....	58	8,003,539	777,485	31.99	3.01

Assets: The net tangible assets as shown by the Balance Sheet as at December 31, 1928, after giving effect to the present financing, as certified by Messrs. Haskins & Sells, were $6,442,730, or over $257 per share on the 7% Convertible First Preferred Stock. Net current assets were $6,118,637, or over $244 per share. The ratio of current assets to current liabilities was over 13 to 1.

Purpose of Issue: The proceeds of this issue and of the sale of 40,000 shares of Common Stock will be used to pay the cash portion of the purchase price of the properties to be acquired, to retire short term indebtedness and to provide additional working capital necessary for the expansion of the business.

Management: The management and control of the Company will remain in the hands of those who founded the business and have been responsible for its success. The owners of the predecessor businesses will own, upon completion of this financing, 160,000 shares of Common Stock, over 50% of which will be owned by members of the Sterchi family.

We offer this Preferred Stock when, as and if issued and accepted by us, and subject to the approval of Messrs. Breed, Abbott & Morgan of New York, and Messrs. Foster & Moore of Atlanta, Ga., Counsel for the Bankers, and Messrs. Cates, Smith, Tate & Long, Attorneys of Knoxville, Tenn., Counsel for the Corporation. It is expected that delivery will be made on or about April 10, 1929 at the office of Birch & Co., Grant Building, Atlanta, Ga., in the form of temporary or permanent stock certificates, or of bearer Interim Receipts of a New York Bank or Trust Company.

We are also offering simultaneously with the Preferred Stock 40,000 shares of the Company's Common Stock. Application has been made to list the common stock on the New York Curb Market on a "when, as and if issued" basis, and the Corporation has agreed to make application for a formal listing.

Cattle Recover Part of Last Week's Loss.

an average estimate placed total supply at 18,000, the second smallest of the year for Tuesday. Large pigs bought 3,500 and smaller hogs obtained 4,000. Outsiders bought 8,000, or one-fourth of the fresh receipts, the largest proportion in some time.

Heavy Steers Sell High.

Medium and weighty heaves account for the sharpest gains, prime 1,452 steers at $14.40 standing highest at that weight since Feb. 27 and above the highest price paid for similar kinds at the high time last week. More than 150 steers sold at $14 and 100 at $13.50. The average was $14.25 during all of last week. Cattle and hogs are at $13.50 to $14.00.

solid steady. Country buyers show more life following the upturn in cattle, and gains of 10c were seen in this branch.

Active demand absorbed the supply of wool lambs readily at $17.00-17.50, with several loads at $17.00-17.50 and one load of springers in lots within 10c of the day's peak, but within 10c of the highest of the season. Choice shorn lambs brought $14.55. Aged and yearling sheep scarce and firm. The few feeder shearing lambs available sold well at recent advances.

RETAIL CLOTHING

TRADE CALLED GOOD

New York, April 1.—(AP)—Clothing was quiet today at the unfinished line. Movement continued here in both finished and unfinished goods.

Ray silk was quiet, with firm prices. Silk goods continued active. Worsted dress fabrics sold more freely in light clothing trade. The market reported good throughout the country.

SUPPORT FAILS IN WHEAT AND PRICES DECLINE

All Other Grain Markets Hit by Selling.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Scattered liquidation was in the grain markets yesterday, the break in securities and high call money rates being a factor. Good rains fell over the greater part of the wheat belt and private crop returns were construed as bearish.

Fairly general selling was in evidence, with support lacking, and the finish was at net losses of 1 1/2¢ to 2¢, with May $1.19 1/2, July $1.22 1/2, and September $1.24 1/2. Corn rallied under May. Corn basis was higher to 1/2¢ lower. Discounts as compared with May follow: No. 3 mixed, 3/4¢; yellow, 2/4¢; white, 1 1/2¢; No. 4 mixed, 1/2¢; No. 5 mixed, 1/2¢; yellow and white, 1/2¢; No. 6 mixed, 1/2¢; yellow, 3/4¢; white, 1 1/2¢. Oats basis was steady to 1/2¢ higher. No. 3 white, 2/4¢ over May. Official receipts of grain at Chicago Monday: Wheat, 42 cars; corn, 274 cars; oats, 32 cars; rye, 40 cars; barley, 11 cars.

PACKARD

Though most Packard purchasers take our advice and keep their cars for several years, there are always some who buy new cars every year or two. Every one agrees that the first year's depreciation is the greatest of any new car. Those who buy their Packard cars but a short time make it possible for others to have the finest personal transportation at a great saving. Read the descriptions of the cars listed below and ask yourself how you would rather have a Packard, almost as new, or some other brand-new but not a Packard, at the same price.
